

SENTENCED TO STATE PRISON

Col. Ammon, of a New York Get-Rich-Quick Concern, Given Four Years.

IS NO NEW TRIAL

The Prisoner's Request for Another Hearing, Was Denied, and His Term Began at Noon.

(Special By Scripps-McRae.) New York, June 29. Col. Robert Ammon, recently convicted of receiving stolen property in connection with the Franklin syndicate get-rich-quick concern was this morning sentenced to four years at Sing Sing prison for his share in the business.

Big Profits. The Franklin syndicate offered five hundred per cent. profits on the investments made with them and hundreds of thousands of dollars were gathered in from rural districts on this plea all of which was lost to the depositors.

No New Trial. The request for a new trial made by Ammon's attorneys this morning, was refused and the sentence was given by the judge to begin at noon today. There are several other indictments on the same charge against other prominent men which are at present hanging fire until this case is settled.

FORMER PEON NOW OWNS MILLIONS

Pedro Alvarado of Parral, Mexico, Said To Have $60,000,000 in Bullion.

At Parral, Mexico, the phenomenal richness of the Palmillo mine is attracting the attention of the entire mining world. This mine was discovered about four years ago by Pedro Alvarado, a Mexican peon, who was at that time employed as a workman in a mine here at 50 cents a day. He still owns the Palmillo, and today is probably one of the richest men in the world. It is believed to be the richest mine in the world.

The American Smelting and Refining company, through its Mexican branch, the Guggenheim Exploration company, has just made an unsuccessful effort to open negotiations with Alvarado to inspect and purchase this mine.

"I don't want to sell the property, and furthermore, no experts are permitted to enter my mine to examine it. I have armed guards there to keep them out," is the way the offer was met.

Finding it impossible to get an expert into the mine to examine it, the agent of the company asked Alvarado to make a price for his mine and the company would pay him cash down. To this proposition Alvarado replied:

"Let the Guggenheims name a price for all their interests in Mexico and if I find that it is reasonable, after they are examined by my men, I will buy them. I am buying mines, not selling."

Alvarado has nearly 1,000 burros carrying bullion from his mine to the railroad. How much has been taken out of it no one knows—possibly not even Pedro Alvarado. At the works of the Palmillo mine he has a steel cage, in which are bars of gold and silver to the estimated value of $60,000,000.

Alvarado recently offered to pay the public debt of Mexico as a donation to the government. His offer was rejected by Minister of Finance Limantour. He lives in a palace, which he recently completed near Parral, and when he visits the town he is always accompanied by an armed body guard of twenty-five men.

WAIVES RIGHTS TO THE THRONE

The Crown Prince of Montenegro Wants to Enter the Russian Army.

Rome, June 29.—It is reported that Danilo, crown prince of Montenegro, will relinquish his rights to the throne in favor of his younger brother, Prince Mirko. His design is to enlist in the Russian army.

AT SINNISSIPPI LINKS

Richardson Medal to Be Resumed Tomorrow—First Mixed Foursome.

The pairing for the Richardson play tomorrow is as follows:

J. P. Baker, 6; Leo Brownell, 4; E. E. McGinn, 6; C. C. MacLean, 6; F. J. Baker, 4; O. Sutherland, 6; C. S. Dunn, 6; Ed. Baumann, 7. It is not probable that any further club supports will be planned. Individual orders placed with Caterer Mouton have been found more satisfactory.

The first mixed foursome of the season will be played tomorrow. Sec. Baker is receiving the entries in order to determine the handicaps. There will be dancing at the clubhouse tomorrow evening. A large number took dinner at the clubhouse yesterday.

REJECTED BY HIS WIFE, HUSBAND SLAYS HER

Falling In Effort to Effect Reconciliation, He Blots Out Two Lives After Preparing Grave.

(Special by Scripps-McRae.)

South Bend, Ind., June 29.—Angered because his wife, from whom he had been separated for two years, refused to return to him, and having prepared his grave and donned burial clothes, Adolph Wuth committed murder and suicide in this city. He shot his wife and himself. The former lived long enough to crawl over a fence and give the alarm. Seekers after the murderer found Wuth's body in the back yard at the residence where Mrs. Wuth had been living and where she also received a fatal wound. Wuth was attired in a suit of black when he called on his wife to request a reconciliation. Afterward it developed that he had deliberately done the suit in the expectation of its being his burial suit in case his mission failed. For two years his grave had been dug in the city cemetery and the day before calling on his wife he visited and prepared it to receive his remains.

Wuth's intentions were learned from letters he left in a pocket. He bequeathed half of a $1,000 life insurance policy to the people with whom he boarded and devoted the other half to burial expenses. He even selected his pallbearers. He left a son and a daughter.

BLACK RAIN IS LATEST THING

Phenomenon in West Virginia Is of Unknown Origin.

Parkersburg, W. Va., June 29.—Barbour county had a black rain, which made streams so black that cattle refused to drink the water, while horses and cattle in the fields appeared black after the storm. On Stewart's run the water was so black that many people thought the Berryburg coal mine had been opened through the hill and the water was coming from it. The black rain extended all over the county. The clouds were of inky blackness and volumes of black smoke seemed to gush from them. There is much speculation as to the cause and many persons were frightened by the phenomenon.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES

It is believed that Senator Allison has been forced to make new concessions to Gov. Cummins and his "Iowa idea" to preserve harmony.

Street car communication between Kansas City, Kas., and Kansas City, Mo., has been resumed for the first time since the floods of four weeks ago.

American libraries received gifts of 96,247 volumes and $10,206,407 last year, according to the reports of the American Library association at Niagara, N. Y. The total of Andrew Carnegie's gifts amounted to $6,679,000.

The city of Dublin has been filling with visitors for the Irish automobile races. The international cup event will be held Thursday.

Thirty persons were killed and sixty badly injured by a passenger train between Bilbao and Saragossa, Spain, which jumped the track on a bridge and plunged into a river.

Emperor William's yacht Meteor was victorious in the schooner race at Kiel; the empress' yacht Iduna was second. Ambassador Tower and Attache Potts were guests on the former craft.

School teachers of Adams township, Champaign county, Ohio, have gone out on a strike for higher wages.

Members of the diplomatic corps have been making an especial study of commercial life in the United States.

Thousands of Christian Scientists from all parts of the world attended the communion service at the mother church in Boston.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has talked of plans for an "athletic bible class," and favors a proposition for the members to take their vacations together.

Senator Hanna has declared that if he had the power to reach men's hearts as do the Salvation Army workers, by prayer, he would quit the senate for the army.

MINERS TO END PETTY FIGHTS

Anthracite Workers Will Not Worry Conciliation Board With Trifles.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 29.—The miners through their superintendents and foremen throughout the Wyoming valley coal fields will make an effort to clean up the petty disputes and grievances which exist, so as not to burden the conciliation board with such matters. The award of the coal strike commission says that the miners and superintendents should make an attempt to end disputes among themselves by conferences, and this will now be done. Only grievances which cannot be settled in this way will be brought to the attention of the conciliation board.

His Ambition. One of the messenger boys in the main office of the Postal Telegraph company is always reading lurid novels. The manager said to him the other day: "Charlie, what's your ambition in life?" The boy put down the Indian story and said gravely: "To have people tremble like leaves at the mere mention of my name."

BEER EVENING WITH KAISER

German Emperor Will Entertain Admiral Cotton and Others at Kiel Club House.

A REGULAR BREW

And Nothing But the Amber Liquid Will Be Served—Free and Easy Intercourse.

(Special By Scripps-McRae.) Kiel, June 29.—The Kaiser, Admiral Cotton, American Ambassador Tower and other Americans at present in the harbor will this evening attend a beer evening at Kiel club clubhouse. It will be a most elaborate affair.

Sit at Tables. The emperor and his guests will sit at small tables and will pass the time by free and easy intercourse. The hands will play and the general public will occupy the adjoining tables, it being a general reception to all.

"Hoch Der Kaiser." Beer is the only liquid that will be served and the evening as planned will be a truly German student evening from start to finish. Beer, and pipes being all the programme arranged for.

AMERICAN DEMAND FOR ISLE OF PINES

A Havana Paper Prints Reputed Conditions for That Island.

Havana, June 29.—Some speculation has been caused by a recent statement in La Lucha that Americans are asking as a condition to handling over the Isle of Pines to Cuba that the mayor be appointed by President Palma; that English shall be taught in the schools; that an office of registry be properly established there, that Americans there shall have the right to vote without changing citizenship; that the island must not be used as a convict station; and that no hospitals shall be established there. The report is not confirmed.

CABINET WILL WATCH EXHIBIT

Italian Chamber Unable to Act on the St. Louis Fair Grant.

Rome, June 29.—Owing to the ministerial crisis it has been impossible for the chamber to discuss before its adjournment tonight the appropriation for Italy's participation in the St. Louis fair. The cabinet has, therefore, decided to devote the necessary funds to this end from other sources and to submit their action for parliamentary approval at the autumn session.

JAPANESE ARE IN WARLIKE MOOD

Ito and Count Yamagata Advocate Resolute Action Regarding Manchuria.

London, June 29.—According to the Tokyo correspondent of the Times, the excitement in Japan over the Manchurian problem is increasing, and the nation is plainly resolved to support the government in any measures which are deemed essential to assert the rights to safeguard the interests of the country. Marquis Ito and Count Yamagata, who hitherto advised a waiting policy, now, it is understood, advocate resolute action by the Japanese government.

M. LEBANDY LOST FIVE OF HIS MEN

Maker of an Empire Has Part of His Forces Captured by the Moors.

Las Palmas, June 29.—M. Jacques Lebandy returned here on Wednesday from Troy, without five men, who, with the tenth boat and all its belongings, were captured by the Moors, who demanded a ransom for them. M. Lebandy proposes to inaugurate a regular steamer service between these islands and his capital. He will remain here some days.

CATHOLIC ORDER EXCURSION

Cream City the Rallying Point for the Knights of Columbus Sunday. A number of local members of the Knights of Columbus went to Milwaukee yesterday, attending the gathering of that order. The excursion drew throngs from many cities along the line of the railroad.

NEW INTERURBAN CAR

"Mary" Has Appeared at Beloit—Is a Handsome Double Ended. The first of the new double ended cars for the interurban line has arrived at Beloit. It is named "Mary" and is even more handsome than the old cars.

WATER SWEEPS VALLEY AWAY

Wheeling Creek, Virginia, Becomes a Raging Torrent, Sweeping Whole Districts Away.

NO ONE DROWNED

While Property Losses Are Large, No Lives Were Lost in the Immense Flood.

(Special By Scripps-McRae.) Wheeling, W. Va., June 29.—The entire valley of the Wheeling creek district was made desolate on Sunday night by a flood which came down the creek, sweeping all before it for ten miles square. No lives were lost.

Wall of Water. As described the flood seemed to be a wall of water which rolled down the valley through which the creek flows without any warning. Whether it was a cloudburst or not is not known but much damage was done.

Fertile Valley. The Wheeling valley is one of the most fertile of this section of the state and the loss will amount to thousands of dollars. All crops are washed out and houses are flooded or swept away entirely.

ALL EUROPE IS WATCHING PLANS

General Opinion Favors the Russian Acceptance of the Kishineff Protest.

Vienna, June 29.—The action of the American government concerning the petition to the czar regarding the Kishineff massacre is watched with the closest attention here on account of its possible effect on eastern affairs. The Neue Freie Presse says: "President Roosevelt's influence with Russia will redound to his undying fame. The Russian autocracy can not remain unmoved by the fact that the president as an autocrat of humanity reminds it in the face of the whole world of the duties it owes to humanity and justice."

PRINCE WOULD SELL PALACES

Heir Apparent to Swedish Throne Is in Severe Financial Straits.

Stockholm, June 29.—The crown prince of Sweden, presumably under financial pressure, wants to sell his ancestral palace at Stockholm. He has applied to the king to submit a bill to the riksdag authorizing him to dispose of it. This palace was bequeathed in 1787 by the Princess Sophie Albertine to the second son of King Gustave III. Duke Charles Gustave with conditions.

TURKS SEEK TO PROVOKE FIGHT

Are Systematically Persecuting Bulgarian Inhabitants and Destroying Their Villages.

Vienna, June 29.—The situation in the Vilayet of Adrianople is grave. There are many indications that Bulgaria and Turkey regard an outbreak of war as a probable contingency. Turkish authorities are organizing a systematic persecution of the Bulgarian inhabitants, their villages being razed to the ground, and many notable Bulgarians being imprisoned on slight pretext. The Turkish troops in the Vilayet number 120,000.

GOLF CHAMPION IS IN POLITICS

M. J. Whigham, a Liberal Candidate for the English Parliament.

London, June 29.—H. J. Whigham, formerly of Chicago, when he was the amateur golf champion of the United States, has entered politics. He has announced himself a liberal candidate for parliament. Since leaving Chicago he has been a war correspondent, having served through the Spanish-American, Chinese, Boer and Philippines campaigns.

HOUSE PARTY BREAKS UP

Lake Geneva Guests of Miss Byrne of Chicago Return to Their Homes. The Misses Lillian Mount and Retta Whitton and Messrs. Will Fox, Arthur Granger, and Harry Atwood returned this morning from Lake Geneva where they have been the guests of Miss Grace Byrne at a house party.

High License Decreases Saloons.

High license went into effect in New York city May 1, and as a result 718 hotel and saloonkeepers went out of business. Under the new law licenses were advanced from $600 to $900 in Brooklyn and from $800 to $1,200 in Manhattan and the Bronx.

SUGAR TRUST AGENT IS DEAD AT CHICAGO

William A. Havemeyer Dies in Suburb After an Illness Lasting Five Months.

Chicago, Ill., June 29.—William A. Havemeyer, local representative of the American Sugar Refining company, and cousin of H. O. Havemeyer, president of that company, died at his home in Riverside. For five months Mr. Havemeyer had been in poor health. It was known that his condition was serious, but a fatal termination of his illness was not looked for. Not until within a few weeks was he confined to his room.

Mr. Havemeyer was born in New York in 1843. He was given a collegiate education in his native state, and received his training for his business career in a practical business office. While still a young man he came west to look after the interests of the already large company controlled by other members of his family.

That was in 1873, and Mr. Havemeyer made Chicago his permanent home from that date. He saw the sugar company expand to greater and greater proportions until it came to dominate the trade throughout the country. About twenty-five years ago Mr. Havemeyer moved to the then new suburb of Riverside. While not exactly a pioneer of this pretty village, he was one of its oldest residents. His home was one of the pleasantest and most attractive in Riverside.

BOLT CAUSES PANIC IN CHURCH

Lightning Strikes Fane at New Concord, O., During the Service.

Zanesville, O., June 29.—Two frightful electrical storms passed east and west of this city and did great damage at New Concord. Lightning struck the Presbyterian church just at the opening of the Christian Endeavor services. The bolt ran down the spire, burst through the ceiling and killed A. H. Alexander, prostrated his young daughter in the same seat beside him and also Miss Rose Paden, the organist. Clovis Allison, seated near by, had one trousers leg ripped from mite hip downward and his shoe torn completely off. A panic ensued, in which several children were slightly injured.

STATE NOTES

Three vessels were caught and jammed at the Reed street bridge in Milwaukee and were held fast in the channel an hour before they could be released.

The Fond du Lac Deutscher Kriger Verein fittingly dedicated their new banner yesterday in the presence of a large crowd of people.

Mrs. Sallina Jungblut, a pioneer resident of Milwaukee county, died at the home of her daughter in Cudahy yesterday.

The Pfister and Vogel tannery employees, of Milwaukee, at a meeting yesterday afternoon decided to continue the strike.

The Knights of Columbus of Milwaukee admitted a class of ninety-five into their order Sunday afternoon. The Appleton police force has started on a hunt for unmuzzled dogs, the result of a mad dog epidemic.

Eight persons yesterday joined Alexander Dowle's Christian Catholic church in Zion City by being immersed in Lake Winnebago at North park.

Aug. Ross of Milwaukee was re-elected treasurer of the Wisconsin district of the synodical conference, now in conference in Milwaukee.

The corner stone of the new Swedish Lutheran church at Racine was laid yesterday in the presence of a large crowd.

A new trial has been ordered for the horse thieves from the town of Eagle that were convicted at Waukegan.

P. C. Pederson of Superior, the young man who committed suicide, has left a letter telling the story of his life.

IN MUNICIPAL COURT

Complaint Made Against Beloit Men Who Used Net to Catch Fish.

Three Beloit fishermen are to answer to a complaint sworn out against them by Deputy Game Warden Peter Drafa, who caught them in the act of catching fish with a net. Complaint was made before Judge Field this morning.

Judgment was given by Judge Field this morning in favor of the Piano Mfg. Co. against O. O. Osmond, in the amount of $205.60. The suit was for the payment of a note.

SAGER GETS COAL CONTRACT

Was Successful in Quoting Lowest Figures of the Four Bidders.

Bids for the county coal for the coming year were opened in the office of the county clerk this afternoon and the award made to Will Sager, who quoted the following prices—large egg, $8.00; small egg, $8.50. Coal for distribution by the superintendent of the poor in less than ton lots was quoted at $8.60.

Seriously Hurt

Hiram Nagle, an employe in the Blodgett mill was seriously hurt this afternoon. He was sweeping, near some machinery and accidentally knocked an endless chain from the bearings; in trying to replace it without assistance his arm became caught and was badly bruised. Dr. Woods was called and attended him. It is expected that he will be able to return to work in a week.

IS AT OYSTER BAY FOR REST

President Roosevelt Now Ready for the Hot Months of July and August.

HE OPENS OFFICES

On Account of the Heavy Rain, the Chief Executive Stays at His Home Today.

(Special by Scripps-McRae.) Oyster Bay, June 29.—The new executive offices were formally opened this morning, although the president was kept at home by the heavy rain, and all mail was taken to his residence by a secretary to be gone over, and answered.

Carefully Watched. While the president is here to rest during the hot months of July and August, he has a complete staff of clerks and secretaries who will not allow the work to drag. Several prominent secret service men are also here on guard.

Will be Quiet. The president is planning for a long summer of quiet and except for the minor cares of the office will allow his secretaries to carry on the general business. His home is watched by government service men and all visitors are closely inspected as they go onto the grounds.

REPUBLICANS IN IOWA ARE UNITED

All But One Nomination At Convention Will Be By Acclamation.

Des Moines, Ia., June 28.—(Special.) The republican state convention will be held here next Wednesday. It is certain all the nominations for the state offices will be made by acclamation, except the nomination for superintendent of public instruction. The other offices to be filled this year are governor, lieutenant governor, member of the Supreme bench, to succeed Judge Bishop; and member of the board of railway commissioner, to succeed Col. Palmer. There is no opposition to the incumbents, all of whom are candidates for re-nomination.

The fight for the nomination for superintendent of the public instruction is between R. C. Barrett, the incumbent, Supt. Adams of Fayette county, and Supt. Riggs, of Keokuk Co., Adams and Barrett from the same congressional district. The Fourth, while Riggs is from the Sixth. In the fight for home support the friends of Adams claim to have 91 of the 114 votes in the district. The friends of Riggs say he will enter the convention with the solid support of the First, Sixth and Eighth districts. All three candidates have engaged headquarters and will conduct an active campaign. Supt. Barrett is his own campaign manager, and, although a candidate for the fourth term, says he has the situation well in hand.

The announcement of the intended retirement of Judge Shiras from the Federal bench has brought about a lively condition of affairs in northern Iowa. The candidates already announced for the succession are Craig L. Wright, of Sioux City, Thomas D. Healy, of Fort Dodge, and F. F. Dawley, of Cedar Rapids.

Mr. Wright has been endorsed by the entire bar in his district, and there is no doubt that the Eleventh will be solidly for him. Senator Healy is strong at home, and has the advantage of having a United States senator and member of the House from his district, who are expected to give him support. Mr. Dawley will be championed by the powerful company of politicians residing in his home town.

THIRTY KILLED; SIXTY INJURED

A Terrible Horror on a Railroad in Spain on Saturday of Last Week.

Madrid, June 29.—Fourteen bodies and fifty injured persons have been extricated from the wreck of the Bilbao train which overturned at Nejerrilla River last night.

According to official information thirty persons were killed and sixty others seriously injured. Many of the latter will die. Of the 300 passengers on the train, it is stated that only six escaped unhurt.

The train, which was composed of two engines and sixteen coaches, was crossing the bridge when the couplings between the engines broke. The second engine left the track and fell into the bed of the river, followed by the entire train. Fortunately the water was low. The nearest medical attendance was a mile and a half distant, and those passengers who were least injured aided the others and did all possible until the arrival of the relief trains bringing nurses, doctors and soldiers from Bilbao.

F. C. Cook is back today from Hoards, Lake Koshkonong, where he and his wife are spending a week or so.

JOHN WESLEY DULY HONORED

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH HELD SPECIAL EVENING SERVICE.

THE OPINIONS OF GREAT MEN

President Roosevelt and Other Prominent Citizens Tell What They Think.

A unique service was held in the First M. E. church last evening in memory of John Wesley.

The platform was filled with young men who represented the leading spirits of the age by giving their estimate of the life and influence of the founder of Methodism. Charles Wesley's hymns were sung. The choir rendered a fine anthem. Prayer was offered by Rev. J. B. Noyes, pastor of the M. E. church at West Bend. Then Rev. Warner announced that the opinions of forty distinguished men had recently been published regarding the marvelous life and influence of John Wesley; one of these estimates were presented in a very interesting manner by each of the following persons: W. L. Rothermel, Harlin Carey, Louis Rider, Bruce Kline, W. J. Hall, Oran Mills, J. F. Williams, G. W. Reynolds.

Lesley Williams, L. J. Allison, A. Austin, C. F. Penny, C. F. Beard, C. J. Scholtz, W. J. Vrooman. We give below extracts from some of these talented estimates.

Theodore Roosevelt
To Americans the 200th anniversary of the birth of John Wesley must have a peculiar interest, for it is in our own country that the great church which he founded has reached its largest development; and the wonderful growth of Methodism has taken place during the very period covered by our national life. The Methodist congregations played a peculiar part in the pioneer history of our country, and it would be hard to over-estimate what we owe to the early circuit-riders; no less than to their successors.

Hon. William P. Frye
It is well-nigh impossible to give adequate expression to the influence of John Wesley on his followers and on the world. The story of the great religious revolution, begun in England by the preaching of the Wesleys and Whitefield and continued in our own country, and of which John Wesley was the central figure, will ever form one of the most conspicuous and fairest pages in the history of English-speaking people.

Hon. John Hay
You will have no lack of able and eloquent exponents of that great apostle's genius and virtues; but, if all mortal tongues were silent, John Wesley's all-sufficing eulogy was written in never-dying words thousands of years ago: "They that turn many to righteousness shall shine as the stars forever and ever."

Hon. John G. McCullough
You ask me for a brief expression of my opinion of the social, economic and religious influence of John Wesley upon the world, as well as upon his followers.

The best answer is the history of Methodism itself. Wesley's printed sermons and his notes on the New Testament have been accepted and recognized for 150 years as containing the substance of the doctrine held everywhere by Methodists.

The wonderful spread of the doctrine and its ready reception among the great middle classes in England and America, demonstrate that it meets the needs and religious longings of the masses of the common people—the bone and sinew of every Anglo-Saxon commonwealth.

William T. Stead
To most English speaking folk St. John of England is the most real and most familiar saint in the calendar of our race. He, more than any other English saint, colors the life and moulds the views and modifies the habits of the English-speaking folk.

Neither Knox or Cromwell affects the lives of so many men and women who are tolling and working all around us today as does John Wesley. There are high upon 30,000,000 of English-speaking men who view the next life more or less through John Wesley's spectacles and whose round of daily duty is directly affected by the rules and regulations of the great Methodist saint—the Ignatius Loyola of the English church.

Rev. Edward Everett Hale, D. D.
There have not been many men who have had the gifts which enable them to convince those who heard them that they had seen God, that they were immediate agents to mankind. Millions of men and women have seen Him and have lived and died in his service, but it is only a very few who have won the place in history of apostles or prophets. John Wesley is one of those few men. At a time when the religion of England was half paralyzed, he waked the blood and breathed new life into a dying nation. His messengers and followers brought to us in America our share in this great revelation.

Hon. Joseph G. Cannon
In my judgment the influence exerted by John Wesley upon the religious, social and industrial life of the world was and is second only to that exerted by Martin Luther.

Closing Remarks
The pastor closed the evening's exercise by a consecration service that was participated in by nearly every one in the audience. Mrs. Charlotte Lake, Misses Luella and Gertrude Lake, Mr. and Mrs. John Van Voorhess, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Vrooman, Merle Fellows and Arthur Fatesley united with the church yesterday, 80 have been received by this church during the past nine months.

Real Estate Transfer
John H. Quigley & Dan J. Quigley $80.00 to Patrick Quigley land in city of Edgerton.

Brooks Lockwood to S. M. Maltress $2500.00 lot 8-15 Original Plat Edgerton Vol 163dd.

Miss Mabel Allen will leave soon on a pleasure trip to California.

FARM LABORERS ARE MUCH NEEDED

Reasons Given for the City's Unemployed Not Going in the Country.

The farmers of the southwest are said to be demanding labor. There are many reasons why city laborers are not rushing impetuously and un-announcedly to answer this demand. Here is just one reason:

In the city the labor movement has reached a higher development than in the country, says the Chicago Tribune. The laborer naturally wishes to be where his cause is farthest advanced.

The question is not entirely one of hours and wages. Even if the country laborer had shorter hours and higher wages than the city laborer a large part of the average of the city laborer for country conditions would remain. In the city the laborer has been able through his organizations to reach a high economic plane, and, therefore, a higher social plane. He no longer accepts whatever working conditions his employer may impose on him. He meets his employer through representatives and effects a bargain with him. He has become a party to industrial operations. He isn't bought in the labor market as he was purely a commodity. He has the satisfaction of feeling that before the business of the year begins in any industry it is necessary to reach some agreement with him. This is a great feeling. It explains why employers are seldom able, by means of shorter hours, increased wages, and improved condition of work, to checkmate the process of unionization. What the laborer wants is not only shorter hours, increased wages, and improved conditions of work, but a recognition of his status as a partner in industry. The psychology of the situation must be studied as well as its economics.

There need be no surprise, therefore, if this reason, combined with other reasons, prevents the stream of labor from flowing out into the country. We all like to be in the forefront of time, and for the laborer the forefront of time is the city.

NAVAL OFFICERS MUST PAY BILLS

Admiral Cotton and His Staff Are Standing All the Kiel Expenses.

When the Kaiser entertains American officers the German treasury pays the bills. When United States naval officers entertain Kaisers and other potentates the officers must pay the score out of their own pockets.

The American naval officers at Kiel who are receiving and entertaining royalty are undoubtedly doing so in proper style at their own expense. It will be news to the average American citizen to know that Uncle Sam does not pay a dollar toward the entertainment of distinguished foreigners who may visit American ships abroad or at home, for that matter unless congress makes a special appropriation in each particular case.

In the case of the United States every meal prepared for the officers from the ensign up to the admiral is paid for by the officers themselves. The government provides only the table linen, dishes, silver and donates the service, including the cooking. Every dollar spent at the Kiel celebration, therefore, must be met by Admiral Cotton and his staff, unless congress should by special act reimburse them for their expenses.

It is not improbable that the expenditures to which the American officers will be put at Kiel and Spithead will forcibly call the attention of congress to the unusual condition of affairs and lead to legislation that will provide a fund from which the secretary of the navy may withdraw such amounts as may be required to properly maintain the dignity of the government.

BAND CONCERTS BEGIN THIS WEEK

Imperial Band Will Appear in First Open Air Program on Tuesday Evening.

Band concerts are to be given on the east side this year from the stand at the eastern end of the courthouse park, an effort being made to utilize the deserted structure. The first is scheduled for Tuesday evening, the Imperial band occupying the musicians' seats. On the following Tuesday, and on alternate weeks thereafter the Corn Exchange square will be pressed into service.

HANDSOME COMPANY SATURDAY EVENING

Mr. and Mrs. John Fuller Sweeney Entertain Large Company at Progressive Euchre.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Sweeney entertained handsomely at the Grand hotel Saturday evening, with a company in honor of their daughter, Miss Blanche Sweeney. The decorations were elaborate. Invitations were issued for one hundred and fifty. Progressive euchre was the game of the evening, prizes being captured by Mrs. F. A. Taylor, N. L. Carle, Mrs. E. P. Doty, and James S. Fife. Punch, frappe, and a two-course supper were served.

TREE TRIMMING IN ORDER

Chief Hogan is Waging Crusade for Enforcement of the Ordinance. Notices have been served upon a number of property owners who have neglected to trim their trees to the proper height above the sidewalk and road. Chief Hogan, who has this matter in charge, has not yet completed his roundup of delinquent tree trimmers, and a number of notices are yet to be served.

DROUTH BROKEN BY GOOD RAINS

END TO DRY WEATHER IN THE EAST.

MACHINE PLANTS DO WELL

Texas Soil Is Said To Be Identical with That of Cuba—An Important Discovery.

In the Connecticut Valley the backbone of the long continued drought, has finally been broken by the coming of nice rains. The drouth has lasted nearly six weeks, only two or three little sprinkles of less than enough to lay the dust for a day. Under all these discouraging circumstances Connecticut tobacco growers have persisted in their efforts to plant their corn and set out their tobacco, and much of it is now growing nicely and showing a healthy outlook for a good crop. In some sections of New England very heavy rains have fallen, accompanied with hail. Tobacco districts have escaped this storm, but rain in abundance has come, and all vegetation appears to join with mankind in songs of thankfulness.

Pennsylvania Market
Reports of sales from the local markets at Lancaster, Pa., have not been very large, but there has been a fair volume of business done during the past week. There has been a most favorable and satisfactory change in the weather conditions. The rains have come at last in ample number and equally ample quantities. Since the last report there have been two or three quite heavy rains, one of which was very general in its extent, there being more than two inches of rainfall. These showers have thoroughly soaked the ground, and farmers have taken advantage of the situation to put out the greater portion of their crop. What is already out, looks good. Crops planted by machine several weeks ago, also look excellent, both as to size and color, while the later planted, though small in size, looks healthy and for some time to come will have nothing to do but grow. This week will probably see the last of the plants set out. It is a little later than usual, but with a favorable season there is ample time to mature the crop.

Southern Tobacco Soil
Secretary Wilson of the United States department of agriculture, who recently visited the tobacco raising districts in a number of southern states has made an important announcement. As a result of soil analysis, the department has found that the soil in parts of Texas, Alabama and South Carolina is identical with that of Cuba and other countries that grow the very best qualities of the aromatic cigar tobacco. The department is satisfied that the same soil exists in Mississippi, Louisiana, and Florida. If the results sustain the department's belief the importation of this discovery cannot be overestimated. About $10,000,000 worth of leaf tobacco was imported from Cuba last year, and more will be imported this season. The department states that the southern growers can raise a crop of high class tobacco as easily as the cheaper grades, which means that they would obtain a large increase in their returns.

Home Stemming
The collector of internal revenue, submitted to the commission the proposition of a cigar manufacturing concern in his district, who propose to deliver unstemmed leaf tobacco from their factories to the homes of certain persons who will stem the tobacco for him, and such persons propose to register as dealers in leaf tobacco. The collector states that there are perhaps a hundred families who would register and be furnished employment in stemming tobacco by the firm mentioned. The collector was instructed that these persons stemming tobacco for the applicants could not be regarded as dealers in leaf tobacco whose business it is for himself or on commission to sell or offer for sale, or consign for sale, on commission leaf tobacco. The collector was further instructed that it would not be proper for him to permit these persons to register as dealers in leaf tobacco, for the purpose of receiving unstemmed tobacco from manufacturers to be stemmed by them and returned to the manufacturers.

More Shade-Grown Leaf
The acreage sown of Sumatra or shade grown tobacco in Florida this year will be increased about 10 per cent; the Cuba, outside grown or filler goods about 50 per cent. Of the shade grown, about 25 per cent will be grown under cloth, and 75 per cent under shade. Excepting the large planters who do their own packing and retailing, there is practically no tobacco in planters' hands. The prospects for the crop of 1903 are good. Despite the fact that no large deals have been put through the Havana market locally, tobacco remains firm with the tendency to strengthen. One of the signs of the times was the purchase by a New York house, in Havana, of 1,000 bales of Remedios, which must bring in the market not less than 60 cents to insure a profit. Jacob Mendelsohn of Mendelsohn & Bro., New York has been here for a few days looking over the tobacco market.

Last week four cars of tobacco were shipped east from the Marquette warehouse, and one car from the Milton warehouse.

Notice
Any persons who use other than the city dumping lot for depositing rubbish will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. Refuse must not be left in piles or alleys but must be taken to the city dumping ground. R. W. EDDEN, M. D. City Health Officer.

MISS KEE IS THE GUEST OF HONOR

Miss Greenman and Miss Sweeney Entertain for Miss Letitia Kee, of Chicago.

Miss Letitia Kee of Chicago was guest of honor Saturday evening at an informal dancing party at the club house of the St. Louis golf club, Miss Mable Greenman being the hostess. Roy Carter presided at the piano with his usual skill. There were about twenty guests. Dainty refreshments were served. The party assembled at the home of Miss Greenman, whence they were taken to the club house in carriages. Miss Blanche Sweeney last evening entertained for Miss Kee with a dinner party to which a few friends were invited.

Miss Kee, who is the guest of Miss Marjorie Mount, intends to terminate her visit tomorrow.

WISCONSIN MAY ROW THE CRIMSON

Plans for Next Year May Include Harvard in the Poughkeepsie Races.

It is rumored at Cambridge, Mass., that Harvard will be represented in the intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie next year with the University of Wisconsin and the others. Whether there will be a break with the Yale navy is doubtful, but students express a desire to have the Crimson row on the Hudson. Many of the professors are strongly in favor of the plan.

Prof. Horatio White, formerly of Cornell and a member of its athletic council, has, since his appointment at Harvard, tried to bring the athletics of Harvard and Cornell into closer relationship and is anxious that Harvard should row at Poughkeepsie.

The plan under consideration is for Harvard to first ask Yale to join in the movement. Yale is not likely to consent. Then Harvard would either give up rowing with Yale or form two crews, one to race at New London and the other at Poughkeepsie.

DOG OWNER HAS ANOTHER ITEM

Tells of the Trouble in Appleton Regarding Mad Dogs—Words of Warning.

To the Editor:—May I trouble the public and yourself once more by asking that the following article from Saturday's Sentinel be published as a warning to persons who see no use in a dog tax that will restrict the number of canines in the city as well as add to the funds of the city treasury. Appleton, Wis., June 27, 3 a. m.—The entire night force of the police department, armed with Winchester rifles and repeating shotguns, has started out on an early morning hunt for unmuzzled dogs. Before the raid is ended it is expected that scores of dogs will have been killed by the officers.

The daylight raid is the result of a mad dog epidemic which is said to be raging in the northern portion of Outagamie county. Yesterday two men were bitten, and both have been sent to the Pasteur Institute at Chicago.

Friday afternoon the police without notice, began their attack of the dog tribe. Acting by virtue of an ordinance passed at the last meeting of the city council. Chief of Police, Hoefler ordered his officers to kill every dog seen without a muzzle. The entire dog force at once began to carry out his orders, and promiscuous shooting was continued until three dogs had been killed. At eight o'clock, there was a temporary respite for the animals.

But the police were only resting. In view of a general slaughter, which was ordered for the morning. At 3 o'clock this morning the entire force of night policemen reported at the police station and the four men who were detailed for the dog killing were provided with repeating shotguns and buckshot shells. Then they began the massacre. It was not generally known about the city, that such rigorous steps would be taken by the police, and if the police kill as many of the animals as they expect, there will be scores of pets missing when the city is awake.

Conditions Become Dangerous
There has been repeated trouble from mad dogs throughout the county for weeks. Not until recently, however, did conditions begin to grow dangerous. Early this week, three dogs ran through several townships in the northern part of the county and bit scores of other dogs, and the rapid animals made victims of horses and cattle. Farmers have been forced to kill much of their stock in consequence. Two cases where men were bitten are known. When reports of mad dogs being seen began to come to the city, the city council passed an ordinance, requiring the police to kill every dog seen on the street without a muzzle. No action was taken, however, till yesterday when the police began the massacre.

The owners of blooded dogs, since the passage of the ordinance, have complied with the provisions of the law, and consequently few dogs of any value are expected to fall victims of the aim of the policemen. The raid on the dog tribe, it is said, will have the support of most of the people of the city.

INTHE CIRCUIT COURT

Judge Dunwiddle supported the justice court decisions rendered in favor of Evan Jones, an infant, against Valentine Bros., and Miss E. L. Williams. The contest was over the return of money which Jones had paid as tuition in the school of telegraphic and the business college. It is understood that Valentine Bros. will appeal to the supreme court.

P. C. Rodman was granted a divorce from Lenora C. Rodman, the latter being awarded $500 and custody of her daughter.

The mortgage over which the contest arose in the action brought by Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson Post against James O. Woyes to clear a title was ordered discharged of record.

Cllo Blood was granted a divorce from Fay Blood and custody of the children. She was also granted $8 a month for support of the children and one-half of the estate.

The suit brought by Etta R. Downing against Ida H. Scott for the payment of a note was settled by the payment of $375 on the part of the defendant.

DOINGS AT THE RAILWAY CENTER

Persons of Employees in the Local Yards and Along the Line.

F. R. Pechen of Chicago, superintendent of the Wisconsin division of C. & N. W. line was in the city Saturday.

Eugene V. Debbis will speak at Schiltz Park, Milwaukee, on July 18th and there will be an excursion that day over the St. Paul road.

Railways are preparing for the annual rush of agricultural implements and binding twine, that occurs every year at this time, by issuing orders that those articles must now be freight and handled in preference to everything except live stock and perishable goods. Great quantities of this twine and farming implements of all kinds are en route west at this period of the year.

Woman Admitted to Dutch Bar.
The first woman to be admitted to the practice of law by the Dutch bar is Mrs. Adolphine Kok of Amsterdam. She and her husband passed the examination at the same time.

Triumphs for Japanese Florists.
Japanese florists have succeeded in cultivating a rose which looks red in the sunlight and white in the shade.

Powerful Gas Engines.
Many makers are now building gas engines of 2,600 horse power, and are ready to double this efficiency.

Calumet Baking Powder

The Standard of Perfect Baking.

Last Call for Lace Curtains

Get them in at once and we will clean them like new. We have pleased thousands during our 20 years in business here and maybe we can please you. * * *

Carl Brockhaus.

59 E. Milwaukee St. New Phone 312
Good called for and delivered.

3 RUGS 3

We have just recently added to our stock a line of floor rugs, made in the latest patterns. Note these prices: Extra large Jute rug 30x60 in. with fringe at $1.25. Smyrna wool rug 30x60 with fringe at $1.75. We also make interesting prices on Hammocks, Underwear, Shirts, Overalls, Croquet Sets, Crockery, Tinware and Notions

E. HALL.

55 West Milwaukee Street

Hires Rootbeer

The Lass With a Glass of Hires Rootbeer, brightens her eyes, deepens the roses in her cheeks, and gives her a healthy and buoyant spirit from her favorite beverage.

the great hot weather drink, is sold every where, or sent by mail for 25 cents. A package makes five gallons.

Chas. E. Hires & Co., Baltimore, Pa.

Buob's Pure Beer.
None better made. Every drop means health. Order a case by Phone. We deliver.

South Side Brewery,
PHONE 141.

Investors

Take a trip with me to Opelda and Vilas counties, Wisconsin, and look at the

FINE TRACTS OF TIMBER.

I can show you, included in the 100,000 acres just placed on the market for the first time. R. R. fare only about $7.00 round trip, and will credit you with that if you buy. Come quick and get the best.

D. CONGER.

Our Prices Do The Business.

No dental firm in the West is better able to do your dental work than we are. Surely no dental firm in the city can meet our prices—that's just the reason why we have enjoyed the dental business of Janesville since locating here. We are satisfied with a fair profit. All examinations free.

Whitcomb Dental Parlors.

Suite 304 Jackson Bldg., Phone 712.

Do You Bake Bread ?

Then why not use our

Dry Maple Wood

And bake it right?

BADGER COAL CO.

City Office Peoples Drug Co. Main Office, Academy St. Phones 76

The Mrs. Clark Company's NEW Lunch Room

153 Michigan Ave. Between Monroe and Adams Sts. CHICAGO

NOW OPEN

Home cooking, moderate prices, prompt and quiet service. Location handy to all lake boats, elevated and surface cars out of the noise. Open (week days only) from 7 a. m. until 7:30 p. m. Tel. Central 2181 A Good Place to Eat When in Chicago.

..Late Magazines..

Draga
Draga dwelt with Alexander, King.
Fair she was, and he was young and ardent.

Love hath ever laid its best foundations.
Bird like, in secluded quiet places.
Thrones exposed to all the winds of fortune.

Grant it but a brief and perilous lodging.
Yet with honied words and silent pressure.

Hand in hand, and all the pretty foibles.
Lovers play at, they are wondrous busy.

Eyes had he none but for his enchantress
Other beauties vied for royal favor Failure fanned resentment into fury.

Hatred hissed before them like a serpent;
Scandal spun its dusky web around them.

They were happy and the Gods immortal Enviied them and slew them as they slumbered.

Life they lost—vain, fleeting; and unwitting.
Won instead, a crown of fame eternal.

See, upon the shore of Love Elysium.
Antony and Cleopatra greet them.
Toil and loss and at the end—oblivion—

These are yours and mine, the common portion;
Only those escape who, greatly daring.

Hazard all for love, and losing, win.
Let the pure condemn them; let the faultless

Hurl their puny pebbles; I a sinner
Lay a flower upon the tomb of Draga.
She who dwelt with Alexander,
King.

—Frank Putnam, in July National.

Viola Allen and Her Moral Plays (From Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for July)

Miss Allen is peculiar among American actresses in that she has never played other than a leading role, and that, too in a career of more than twenty years of professional activity.
It was after "Emeralda"—in its extraordinary run, twenty-two years ago at the Madison Square theatre, New York—had passed its 300th performance, and Miss Annie Russell had tired of playing its heroine, that Miss Allen got her chance. An absolute novice she stepped into the title role and acted it throughout the country. Her father, Mr. C. Leslie Allen, was a member of the company and presumably suggested her. She was then a young girl, as was Miss Russell, probably not more than 17, and certainly under 20. Her mother and father were actors, and the latter is still a valued member of his daughter's company.

At the end of the season a few years ago, the term of Miss Allen's original contract with Mr. Frohman, having expired, the actress demanded that a clause be inserted in her new agreement providing that she could refuse a part on moral grounds. Mr.
Frohman refused to admit any such stipulation and they parted.

Miss Allen found no trouble, however, in getting another manager to "star" her, and little more in securing a play, and one out of which she made a large enough fortune to demand almost anything she liked even Shakespeare, for the coming season, when she renewed her contract with Lieber & Co., a month or so ago.

Anything But Nervous (Norman Duncan in The World's Work.)

The Newfoundland outporters are hardy, courageous, boldly adventurous, simple lived God-fearing, warm hearted—a physically splendid race of men. Cowards and weaklings, have for four hundred years been unfit for the place; they occur, of course, in the best regulated families, but do not long survive, for exposure kills off the weaklings, and in the midst of many dangers the cowards lose their lives. Children learn to sail a punt at six or seven years old and at every age they are encouraged to play at the highly dangerous game called "copying" of prancing about on floating ice; the skill acquired in leaping from one sinking block to another would make the trumpeted river driver look like a blundering child. As men, they know their punt as intimately as a cowboy knows his horse. The race is truly hardy and courageous. It was John Butt, with nothing more than a broken collar bone and a split forehead to show for it, who survived two wild snowy nights and a day on a twenty-four foot ice pan, over which for many hours broke great seas, heavy with jagged fragments of ice; and it was a reckless Green Bay skipper who let the wind blow the masts out of his schooner rather than reef her, because he had been told that his crew thought him nervous—a mad sort of courage to be sure, but proof positive for all time that he was no coward.

The Day After
It is a strange omission that the Day After, supreme and epoch making period of time, should have failed to receive the homage which is its just prerogative.

De Quincey, in his powerful bit of word painting, entitled, "The Knocking at the Gate" dwells on the thought that in Macbeth, the climax of the tragedy, the moment most truly fraught with terror, is not the one in which occurs the murder of Duncan, or when the guilty pair nerve themselves for its accomplishment, but the moment when the first knocking at the gate is heard. With that summons from without comes an instant and terrible realization of what has taken place. In that moment of horror is condensed all the meaning of past crime and future retribution as in a lightning flash.

The magnitude of what has happened cannot be measured until the first touch of reaction has been felt.
We cannot tell what really occurred till the Day After.—From the July Atlantic.

Countries I Have Never Seen FRANCE

"Others have used their knowledge,
Let me write out of my ignorance,
and show the value of it."

(Bernard G. Richards in The Reader
for July.)

Enthusiasm is the chief export of France. Feeling is its specialty.
Whenever the French people feel like it, they stir a revolution into action. The country has quite a reputation for revolutions. It was in France that the motto of Liberty, Equality, and Fraternity was coined, and since then, the phrase has been so much in use and given a wide circulation in England and this country. Therefore politicians owe an incalculable debt to France.

Bohemians are different from all other people. That is their chief business. They are devoted to art, culture, music, philosophy and grimaces. They live in a world of beautiful dreams, enchanting visions, and blissful forgetfulness, where no one pays any rent. But they spend too much time in that region, and are often rudely reminded of the hard realities of the world and unremitted bills. The gay life of Paris is fast depopulating the country, and their writers are urging the people to raise big families with the hope of increasing circulation of their books.

They are always revolutionary, except when the Czar of Russia visits their country. When he comes, they cheer him, and out of deference, refrain from saying anything about anarchy. When the Czar departs in peace they entertain some famous Nihilist and give vent to a new set of feelings.

The French belong to the Latin race, and this accounts for the Latin Quarter in Paris where people wear their hair long, and their neckties, cloaks and morals very loose.

The French are exceedingly polite people, though they have failed in proving it to Captain Dreyfus.

A Child's Frock
Amelia Miller in The Pilgrim for July.

A dressy frock for a five year old girl has a full length front panel attached to a close fitting waist, made with two box plaits in the back. The sides and back of the skirt are in circular gores attached to the waist by band. A wide shoulder collar, of embroidery has stole ends in front ending just below the waist line.
The joining of skirt and waist is concealed by a snash fastened at both sides of the front panel on the belt.

A stylish hat for a little girl is made from one of the wide brimmed straw sailor hats, with a black velvet strip edging the under brim. A black velvet crown band an inch in width has a piping of Roman stripe silk scarf are tied over the band and fall three inches over the hat brim just behind the left ear.

The Indian Pipe

(From Country Life in America)
With dreamy eyes I watched, one misty night.

The moon rays' silvery shuttles weaving 'neath a pine.

Nor knew I'd seen the dim enchanters' might.

Till day revealed a pallid ghost-flower strange and white.

The city of Louisville has again been filled with rumors in regard to the movements of the army of the Cumberland. The only thing definitely ascertained is, that the greater portion of Rosecrans' army moved forward from Murfreesboro on Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock, and, on that evening, the advance guard had a skirmish with the rebels at Shelby-ville, Tenn., and occupied that place.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

To pay compliments is much easier than to pay debts.

To have what you want is wealth;
to do without is power.

In order to win success a man must first fall in love with his work.

The world has no time for a visionary man—until after he gets there.

All men are anxious for fame, but some will accept money as a substitute.

Education is a good thing, provided it does not unfit a man for honest labor.

It isn't always safe to bump up against a train of thought when it's in motion.

When a meek man marries a strenuous woman he soon discovers that he is outclassed.

A good many things are more or less adulterated, but most political speeches are pure bosh.

It's no disgrace for a man to be poor unless he becomes so because of idle, shiftless or vicious habits.

If the conceit were taken out of some men their friends would be unable to identify the remains.

Think twice before extracting the mighty dollar from your pocket to invest in a get-rich-quick proposition.

Every man moves with the world, but a good many men had to get an independent move on themselves May 1.

You can get more wind out of a 10-cent fan than you can out of a $10 one—and the same may be said of a 10-cent man.

When you finally get next to the fact that you don't know much, stop talking and give others a chance to put you wise.—Chicago News.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR.

Red hair is to temperament what alcohol is to wine.

Cupid is not so blind as those who cannot dodge his shots.

Some women would rather be devoted than never to be married.

The funny, fluffy things that a woman calls clothes a man calls mysteries.

The woman never lived who doesn't believe that she is more beautiful than lots of other women she knows.

When a man sits down to write a love letter the less brains he puts into it the bigger the success it will be.

Whatever happens to be the good point of a woman's figure it is around that spot that she dresses the rest of herself.

Even if a man knew the names of all the queer things women wear it would not help him to understand why they do.

You can never make a woman who hasn't wavy hair believe that one who has can be absolutely trusted with men.—New York Press.

BEAUTY DON'TS FOR HAIR.

Don't fail to rinse with clear water and to rub on a little oil after a shampoo.

Don't think you must not brush the hair because it is falling out.

Don't brush the hair in any other direction than the way in which it grows.

As a rule, don't wash the hair oftener than once a month. Too frequent washing makes it dry.

Don't use too much soap, borax or soda when taking a shampoo. Substitute yolk of egg. If the hair is naturally oily, use only the white of the egg.

NEXT MORNING PHILOSOPHER.

Advice is seldom taken if it disagrees with inclination.

Some pugilists win their greatest victories in talking matches.

When a man lives wholly within himself he has a cramped habitation.

Lake Geneva

A strictly first-class personally conducted excursion to this beautiful resort Tuesday, June 30th, round-trip $1.00. Leave Milton Junction 7:14 a. m., Janesville 7:40 a. m., arriving Lake Geneva 9:45 a. m., Williams Bay 10:00 a. m. Returning leave Williams Bay 5:40 p. m., Lake Geneva 6:00 p. m. For tickets and information apply to agent of the C.
& N. W. Ry.

ANOTHER DEATH IS DUE TO FEUD

UNCLE HAD HUNG JETT JURY

Charge That Hiram Barnett Had Stated That Burns Fitzpatrick Had Bought a Fine Rifle After the Trial
Is Settled in True Kentucky Fashion.

Jackson, Ky., June 29.—Another sensational killing occurred in this county which is traced back to the Hargis-Cardwell feud. Near Daisy Dell on the McGowan county line, Hiram, Elias and Samuel Barnett met at the home of Miss Burns, a sweetheart of Hiram Barnett, and a local belle. The girl, not thinking, accused Hiram of saying that her uncle, Burns Fitzpatrick, had bought a fine rifle in Jackson after he hung the jury that tried Jett and White.

Barnett Is Killed.
When asked who told her she said
John Hacker. With this Hiram called Hacker outside and a number of other young men joined them in the hallway of the girl's home. Soon there was shooting and when the lights were brought out it was found that Hiram Barnett had been shot dead and that Joe and John Hacker were both dangerously wounded.

Church services were held here for the first time since the opening of the Hargis-Cockfield feud here a year ago last April. Since that time until Adjutant General Murray came here and placed the town under martial law the people would not venture on the streets at night, and the night services at both churches were abandoned.

Will Use Hotchkiss Gun.
Adjutant General Murray told County Judge Hargis that if there were any more men killed in Jackson there would be orders issued to fire the Hotchkiss gun into the building from which the first shot came. Judge Hargis smiled and walked away. He is recognized as the head of the faction which has done all the killing, and Police Judge Cardwell and John J. Patrick had applied to the militia for protection.

Suspects Give Bail.
Joseph Crawford and Edward Tharp, the men charged with burning Ewen's hotel, were released on bond of $1,000 each and have gone back to work for Hargis Bros.

The provost guard arrested "Trick Tom" Tharp for firing his revolver in the street. Tharp gave the soldiers a chase, and it took them half an hour to run him down. J. J. Embrey Allen has arrived and will take charge of the militia.

BROOM CORN BOUNDS UPWARD

Price Takes a Sudden Jump and It Is Likely to Go Higher.

Charleston, Ill., June 29.—Broom-corn jumped from $85 to $100 a ton, Flood & Co. of Louisville paying that price for fifty-five tons of choice brush. A rise in price has been expected for the last month, but it was not known what turn the market would take until the bulk of the crop was planted. The acreage is estimated at one-third less than last year, and, as nearly every factory is reported as having a short supply, it is believed that the price will not stop at $100. The only broomcorn now in the hands of the growers is held by farmers in this immediate vicinity, and those who had the foresight to hold their crops and plant again in the face of a late season and low prices are elated over the prospects of high prices. One hundred and fifty dollars a ton is predicted.

BATHER DROWNS AT CAPE MAY

Officer of Children's Guardians of Washington Is Caught by Tide.

Cape May, N. J., June 29.—Clyde Walker Dawson, assistant agent of the board of children's guardians of the District of Columbia, was drowned here. He had ventured well out where a strong ebb tide was running.
He tried to get ashore, but became exhausted just within the edge of the breakwater. He lived at Linden, Md.

Library Is Dedicated.

Oconto, Wis., June 29.—Farnsworth library, which cost $30,000, was dedicated with imposing ceremonies. Mr.
Farnsworth stated that his fortune was made in Oconto and that he gave the library to show his appreciation.

Deputy Sheriff Holds Peon.

Montgomery, Ala., June 29.—L. A.
Grogan, a deputy sheriff of Goodwater, Ala., is charged with assisting in holding Emma Pearson, a negro, in a condition of peonage. He was released on a bond of $1,000.

Overdue Ship Arrives.

San Francisco, Cal., June 29.—The overdue steamer Minnetonka, on which reinsurance was quoted at 18 per cent, arrived from New York by way of Coronal. It took eighty-eight days to come from New York.

Serious Train Wreck in Spain.

Madrid, June 29.—A train on the Bilbao-Saragossa railway was thrown from the track and overturned at Nejerilla river and 100 persons were injured.

Lake Geneva

Remember the excursion to this delightful resort Tuesday, June 30th.
Round trip only $1.00. Leave Janesville 7:40 a. m., arrive Lake Geneva 9:45 a. m., Williams Bay 10:00 a.
m. Returning leave Williams Bay 5:40 p. m., Lake Geneva 6 p. m. For tickets and information apply to agents C. & N. Ry.

BORT, BAILEY & CO.

A GREAT...

5c. LACE

SALE.

400 pieces of beautiful laces, including

Normandy Vals.

Platt Vals.

and Torchons.

We have cleaned up from a large jobber several tables of laces,

Worth 10, 15, 20 and 25c per yard. We made them an offer of 50c per dozen for the lot. The price was so ridiculously low that we did not suppose they would consider it, but they did; and we got the lot, now we purpose to let them go

At Less Than One Penny a Yard Profit.

You have the benefit of this purchase, and we have the pleasure of giving our customers the Best Lace Bargain Ever Offered

IN THIS CITY

Our large windows will be filled with them and you can take your choice at 5c.
per yard.

BORT, BAILEY & CO.

Farms Cheap

There are thousands of acres of rich agricultural lands, not yet under cultivation, along the line of
THE GREAT NORTHERN RAILWAY.
Write today for illustrated bulletins giving detailed information. Investigate. Satisfy yourself—and OWN A FARM.
MAX BASS, Gen. Imm. Agt. 220 S. Clark St. Chicago.
F. I. WHITNEY, Gen. Pass & Tkt. Agt. St. Paul Minn.

For Sale At Low Prices Given Away By the Government
Low round-trip Homeseekers' Excursion Rates to points in NORTH DAKOTA,
MONTANA, . . .

Low Excursion Rates

SIMPSON, DRY GOODS.

Mohair Garments A Necessity.
Separate Skirts Essential to Complete Summer Wardrobe.

The separate skirts of mohair are among the garments essential to the correct summer wardrobe. White is pronouncedly fashionable. To be correct, it must be walking length. Blue of the marine and navy shades narrow stripes and black, the rich lustrous black are the colors most favored for traveling and general utility purposes.

NOTE—The above is taken from a late issue of the New York publication, The Dry Goods Economist, an authority on fashions. The new store shows a very large line of these popular skirts at $5, $6.50, $7.50, $9.50 and $10.

PEEK-A-BOO WAISTS

A name now used in connection with the season's favorite, the openwork Shirt Waist because a Wisconsin clergyman applied the name from the pulpit to what he also termed the "X Ray" garment. We show new ideas in medallion and lace front waists at $1, $1.35, $1.65 and $1.85.

BLACK LACE WAISTS

Sizes 32 to 44, solid tucked front, special value at $1.00;
others in black up to $3.00.

SATISFACTORY SUITS

Before you start on your vacation trip step in and see how reasonable you can buy a tailored suit, and one that you know is of this season's make. $7.50, $10 and $12.50 for some that are great value. A few separate black cloth blouses left;
were $6.50 and $7.50, now at $5.00.

Trochet's Colchicine Salicylate Capsules.

A standard and infallible cure for RHEUMATISM and GOUT, endorsed by the highest medical authorities of Europe and America. Dispensed only in spherical capsules, which dissolve in liquids of the stomach without causing irritation or disagreeable symptoms. Price, $1 per bottle. Sold by druggists. Be sure and get the genuine.
WILLIAMS' MED. CO., CLEVELAND, OHIO. Sole Proprietors FOR SALE BY PEOPLE'S DRUG CO. AND KINGS' PHARMACY.

Read Our Want Ads.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Monday, June 29, 1863. The progress of the rebels northward steadily continues.
They have arrived at Harrisburg and Columbia, on the Susquehanna river, and have so far destroyed the Northern Central railroad so as to prevent communication between Harrisburg and Washington by that route.

The Rebel Pirates at Portland.—The revenue cutter Caleb Cushing was captured by the rebel pirates in the harbor of Portland, Maine, on Friday night, and was immediately taken to sea. The pirates came in on the schooner Archer, and at two o'clock in the morning boarded the Cushing.

The Fourth Wisconsin All Prisoners.—On the 18th inst., Gen. Banks ordered one thousand men to make the final charge on the enemy's works.
They were repulsed and all taken prisoners, among them the 4th Wiscon-sion regiment, commanded by Colonel Boardman, which gallantly volunteered.

Philadelphia.—The excitement in this city is intense. Third street is thronged with people awaiting the news. The merchants have resolved to close their stores to recruit a regiment immediately. The Union league has also started in the matter. The Corn Exchange guard has a recruiting party marching through the streets.

Water Witch.—There will be an important meeting of the Water Witch Engine Co., No. 2, this evening at 8 o'clock. Henry Hemming, foreman.

The Eleventh New York artillery, which was recruited in Rochester,
New York, left there last night for Harrisburg, direct.

THE JANESVILLE GAZETTE

Entered at the postoffice at Janesville, Wisconsin as second class mail matter.

Long Distance Telephone No. 77.
Business Office..... 77-2
Editorial Rooms..... 77-3

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION

Daily Edition—By Carrier.
One Year.....$8.00
Six Months.....4.00
Three Months.....2.00
One Year, cash in advance.....5.00
Six Months, cash in advance.....2.50
Three Months, cash in advance.....1.25
Daily Edition—By Mail.
CASH IN ADVANCE.
One Year.....$8.00
Six Months.....4.00
Three Months.....2.00
One Year—Retail delivery in stock Co. 1.50
WEEKLY EDITION—One Year.....1.50

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Fair tonight and tomorrow.

RETORT PROMPT

A few days ago the Northwestern expressed its regret that Governor La Follette should have indulged in such severe and revolutionary language, regarding the trusts when he delivered an address at Winfield, Kan. The Milwaukee Free Press, in an article copied elsewhere in this paper, professes to see nothing dangerous in the governor's words and mildly scolds the Northwestern for calling attention to it.

Let us examine the governor's statements and see if there is anything in them that ought to be condemned:

"He declared that the government is now threatened by the great corporations."

"The individual taxpayer, he asserted is overtaxed for the benefit of the great corporations."

"Our fathers fought for liberty in 1776, but the crime of 1903, taking away the rights of the people for whom the government was established, was greater than the crime of 1776."

"The present day trusts are a greater imposition on the people than quartering the armies of King George upon them."

"There is no such thing as commercial slavery, and individual freedom."

"He said the time was right, in his opinion, for a new declaration of independence."

What does this mean? Is it not virtually telling the populist farmers of Kansas that they are now suffering more from trusts than the American colonists suffered from the misgovernment of the British King, that the time has come for a new declaration of independence to be attended by the organization of minute men and militia so that they can obtain by force of arms what they have failed to secure by legislation?

The governor's language sounds too much like the talk of the demagogue who is trying to stir up strife and set one class of poor people against another. It is just such talk as this that is indulged in by the "yellow" newspapers and which is condemned by all reasonable people, regardless of party. It was exactly this kind of sentiment indulged in by some of the incendiary newspapers that brought on the assassination of President McKinley. The governor of a great state should not descend to such appeals to prejudice. The man in the governor's chair should be conservative and law-abiding and the weight of his authority should always be given to the maintenance of order and the supremacy of the government. He should leave it to the reckless newspapers that fatten on the ignorance of the people to express such sentiments.

It is true that the last national convention of the republican party condemned "conspiracies and combinations intended to restrict trade," and every citizen will endorse the governor when he discusses the subject of trusts in a rational manner. It is a question that interests all the people and nearly every line of business is affected, favorably or unfavorably, by the operation of trusts. Anything that can be done to protect the interests of the people by legislation and the action of our courts ought to be done but there is nothing but danger to the whole people when a man in the high position of governor insinuates that an appeal to arms would be justifiable.

The Northwestern has found much to approve and something to criticize in Governor La Follette's course in the past. It will continue to endorse him whenever it thinks he is right and it will its right of honest criticism when it believes he is wrong. Any other course would be disloyalty to the governor as well as to the people.—Oshkosh, Northwestern.

BETWEEN THE LINES

It does not take much of an argument to read between the lines of the Governor's Organ. In recent editorials it has taken to task the Oshkosh Northwestern because it dared to tell the truth about the Governor's speech in Kansas, and call attention to its inflammatory tendency. The answer of the Northwestern is published in another column of today's issue, and the reader can see for himself just what this former staunch ally of the machine means. Another feature which cannot or rather should not go by unnoticed is the apparent entire indifference with which the Organ attempts to express the sentiment of the republican party and still persists in blackguarding the President at every opportunity. When Postmaster Payne was appointed, instead of rejoicing that a Wisconsin republican was given a post of honor and confidence and especially that a citizen of Milwaukee was so chosen, they started in on a campaign of personal abuse and mental causing that reminded one of a barefoot country boy who had run a thorn in his foot. They were "agin the president." Now they come out to explain that the reason why Wisconsin is for Roosevelt is because the general sentiment of the people is for Roosevelt. It tries to shift the honor of steadfastly supporting the president from the shoulders of the conservative republicans to the Organ and then pays compliments after compliments to Roosevelt's sagacity and wisdom. The organ can fool no one but itself. Even the La Crosse Chronicle, a former strong supporter of the Organ and its ways of darkness repudiates its latest move. It says in part:

"It has been no secret since the day, over a year ago, when the Free Press assailed the President in the vocabulary of the boy who has just collided with the parental slipper, because he had appointed Payne to his portfolio, that the Free Press was 'agin' the president. This paper may deny it but the facts are apparent. Beginning on that date, it assumed that the president was in league with Pfister and the devil to defeat La Follette; it constituted him in its mind an honorary member of the Eleventh Floor league and found traces of his hidden hand working in the dark against its organist. It stabbed him with its paper sword, and in its inflamed imagination Wisconsin became the nation and the governorship the issue upon which every energy of the federal government was bent. It would no doubt have espoused even the hated Hanna to clear the Wisconsin atmosphere of the federal fog. But aside from its reform hysteria the Free Press is not foolish; while back it began to see that Roosevelt was certain of re-nomination; it saw that no 'manager' could prevent a whole Roosevelt delegation going from this state to the convention; that 'Mr. Payne and Mr. Spooner and Mr. Babcock could not get a delegate to oppose him if they should try.' And it saw more. It saw the Milwaukee Free Press could not get a delegate to oppose Roosevelt if it should try; it saw that it could speak its mind as to the president only at the expense of injury to itself and its cause. So now it is for Roosevelt, in spite of—well, just in spite.

But it cannot refrain from attacking Spooner and Payne, the two men from Wisconsin who are closest to the president, even tho' it dare not longer say aught against the president himself. So it apologizes for the foolish president while it assails his advisors; they are evil men, Spooner and Payne. Out upon them! But the president is all right. He doesn't know any better than to associate with men who are not friendly to the Free Press, but then perhaps he doesn't realize what a formidable power the Free Press is in Wisconsin. Well, after all, the Free Press is not to be blamed for declining to butt its head against a stone wall.

It is wonderful what kindly feelings a highly protected producer can entertain toward tariff revision when some of his private purchases are held up for big duties at the custom house.

From this time until the Fourth is over every prudent parent will see to it that the wounds distributed over the superficial area of little Johnny's anatomy are kept open and a good doctor is in attendance.

Columbia's statesmen are still afflicted with doubts as to the canal bargain. It would be interesting to learn how many of these doubts are inspired by the American railway lobby and in what denominations.

A sad feature of it all is that the head that wears King Peter's $10,000 crown is not likely to lie any easier than if it wore a crown that cost only 30 cents.

"Peonage" may be a somewhat more refined expression than "slavery," but while it has not the same general significance the investigations of the Alabama cases up to date fall to show wherein it is much different.

Granting that the desire for public prominence is an overwhelming passion, that is no reason why certain citizens who do not happen to be vice presidential candidates should brag about the distinction so much.

Mr. White is not the first man to formulate elaborate plans for the purpose of helping Mr. Carnegie to get rid of his money.

The story about Boston's sinking into the sea is manifestly incorrect. It is absurd to suggest that Boston would do anything so improper.

"To resign under fire or to be fired unresigned"—that is the question upon which some of the post office officials are now colloquizing.

Thus far Janesville has not had any toy pistol accidents. But just wait. The deadly weapon has yet time to work before election.

Mr. Morgan leaves his works of art in England rather than pay duty. It is cheaper to run over every few weeks to look at them.

A Mrs. Campbell who has had experience, tells all girls not to marry millionaires. Most of the girls will take her advice.

A London doctor tells Mr. Gates to take a rest. If he does not feel like doing that at least he should give the rest of us a rest.

Whether the protest to Russia be diplomatic or not, no one will deny that it correctly represents American feelings on the subject.

As viewed in Russia, American diplomacy has again resumed the practice of working in its shirt sleeves.

If any present members of congress are mixed up in the postal frauds the people would like to know it.

It is to be hoped that Russia will not retaliate by protesting against the conditions in Breathitt county.

Some of the indicted post office officials are getting so mad that presently they may let the cat out of the mail bag.

New Orleans has just started work on a sewerage system. Even Brother Jasper would admit now that the world moves.

President Mitchell of the Mine Workers' Union offers some practical suggestions on the labor question.

Two Racine youths fought a duel with a target pistol and a butcher knife.

That wide tire movement will also be of no little interest to the humane societies.

Peter Karageorgevitch is every inch as much of a king as his ministers will permit.

Sir Thomas might get the Yale crew to give him an oar if the wind is slow.

Wide tires are necessary if the wheels of progress are to keep going properly.

"Lovers and Lunatics" is the name of a new play. The title is tautological.

Ambassador White thinks Kaiser Wilhelm and President Roosevelt are much alike.

PRESS COMMENT.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: Perhaps the democratic party can construct a platform for 1904 by pointing with alarm to the fact that the republicans have appropriated all the good issues.

Philadelphia Press: One reason why 'Sir Thomas Lipton should not have the America's cup is that he will quit if he gets it. We should greatly miss him and his multitudinous Shamrocks.

Washington Post: The correspondent who quoted Mr. Cleveland as saying that he had not even remotely entertained the thought of a desire to re-enter public life has the satisfaction of knowing that he got a rise out of the Princeton fisherman, even if it was in the form of a denial.

Minneapolis Times: If King Peter punishes the regicides what will happen to King Peter in that regicidal country of his? That Breathitt county prosecuting attorney is a better risk.

Chicago Record-Herald: Andrew D. White wants the colleges to train young men for office holding. That's not a bad idea, but how are the

Ancient History

In the year 1696 one Class Tilly, a citizen of Harlem, in Holland, discovered a combination of oils and gums, which on trial proved a wonderful remedy for kidney trouble, also very healing for wounds and gravel. That was over three hundred years ago. This remedy is still made by the descendants of Class Tilly and sold by us for 10c the bottle. To get the genuine buy it of us. We have received a shipment direct from Holland. Badger Drug Co., Milwaukee and River streets.

trained young men to get the offices?

New York World: One misplaced comma sent the Massachusetts excise law wrong, another threatened a Nebraska prisoner with the gallows. Law framers should mind, besides their p's and q's, their punctuations.

Philadelphia North American: For general attractiveness the position of prosecuting attorney in a Kentucky feud district is about equal to the Serbian throne.

Washington Star: The new Shamrock is said to be the handsomest boat that has yet been brought over by Sir Thomas Lipton. However, it is the watch and not the camera that is to test its merits.

Chicago Inter Ocean: A Boston laborer has fallen heir to $2,000,000 in cash, besides valuable gulch mining claims. Being a Boston laborer, of course he is not a laborer of the ordinary kind, as may be inferred from his name, which is J. Howard McDonald.

TODAY'S CHICAGO MARKET

From the Hadden, Rodee Co., 204
Jackman Block, Janesville.

C. L. Cutler Resident Manager.

Open. High. Low. Close

Wheat..... 79 80 79 79 1/2

Sept..... 77 1/2 78 1/2 77 1/2 78 1/2

Chas..... 49 1/2 50 1/2 49 1/2 50 1/2

July..... 49 1/2 50 1/2 49 1/2 50 1/2

Oct..... 39 1/2 40 1/2 39 1/2 40 1/2

Sept..... 35 1/2 36 1/2 35 1/2 36 1/2

Post. 15 02 15 02 15 02 15 02

July..... 15 02 15 02 15 02 15 02

Sept..... 15 02 15 02 15 02 15 02

Live..... 8 01 8 01 8 01 8 01

Sept..... 8 01 8 01 8 01 8 01

Chicago..... 8 01 8 01 8 01 8 01

U. S. Yards Open. U. S. Yards Close.

Mixed Ab. 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Good heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Half heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Light 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

U. S. Yards Open. U. S. Yards Close.

Good heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Half heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Light 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

U. S. Yards Open. U. S. Yards Close.

Good heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Half heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Light 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

U. S. Yards Open. U. S. Yards Close.

Good heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Half heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Light 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

U. S. Yards Open. U. S. Yards Close.

Good heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Half heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Light 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

U. S. Yards Open. U. S. Yards Close.

Good heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Half heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Light 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

U. S. Yards Open. U. S. Yards Close.

Good heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Half heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Light 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

U. S. Yards Open. U. S. Yards Close.

Good heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Half heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Light 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

U. S. Yards Open. U. S. Yards Close.

Good heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Half heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Light 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

U. S. Yards Open. U. S. Yards Close.

Good heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Half heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Light 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

U. S. Yards Open. U. S. Yards Close.

Good heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Half heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Light 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

U. S. Yards Open. U. S. Yards Close.

Good heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Half heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Light 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

U. S. Yards Open. U. S. Yards Close.

Good heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Half heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Light 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

U. S. Yards Open. U. S. Yards Close.

Good heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Half heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Light 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

U. S. Yards Open. U. S. Yards Close.

Good heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Half heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Light 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

U. S. Yards Open. U. S. Yards Close.

Good heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Half heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Light 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

U. S. Yards Open. U. S. Yards Close.

Good heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Half heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Light 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

U. S. Yards Open. U. S. Yards Close.

Good heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Half heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Light 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

U. S. Yards Open. U. S. Yards Close.

Good heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Half heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Light 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

U. S. Yards Open. U. S. Yards Close.

Good heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Half heavy 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

Light 5 50 5 50 5 50 5 50

U. S. Yards Open. U. S. Yards Close.

Ice Cream Soda, 5c

Can be had Its 5c

Every Day Its 5c

Clean & Pure 5c

Regular Size Its 5c

Each Time Its 5c

And the best Its 5c

Made in the city.

Janesville Candy

Kitchen.

157 West Milwaukee St.

FIRE CRACKERS!

Direct from China

Collars 2c, Cuffs 4c

Chinese Laundry

LEE SING & CO.,

118 W. Milwaukee St., Janesville, Wis.

A Fourth of July Display is utterly incomplete without the use of electric lights—colored lamps gloves, & if you contemplate giving a garden or house party 4th of July night, or simply want to celebrate, let us take charge of your electrical arrangement; but please order early. Don't forget that electric light in the house light parexcellence.

Janesville Contracting Co.

2 W. Milwaukee St. On the Bridge

Don't Throw Your Old Shoes Away.

But take them to the

Rockford, Janesville

GOLLMAR WILL REMAIN HERE

PARDONED EXILE WILL NOT GET HIS PROPERTY.

HIS WIFE WILL JOIN HIM HERE

He is Content To Know That He May Return—Will Continue with the Parker Pen Co.

John Gollmar will not return to Serbia, at least not at present. He is satisfied to have received the pardon which makes him free to go back to his native land. If there was any possibility of recovering his confiscated fortune he would take the necessary steps to secure it, but there is none.

The country is too poor to repay any money or property which was wrongfully taken from its banished citizens. By one act King Peter Karageorgevitch extended pardon to several hundred exiles, John Gollmar among them. But he could not return their possessions.

Many Exiles Pardon

Of the eleven banished Servians who are in this land, only two will go back to the country of their birth. They are satisfied to remain in a land of freedom.

"In Belgrade I was a rich man," said Gollmar, this morning. "Now that I am poor, I prefer to remain in America. It is enough that I can go back. I have no relatives in Serbia, save my wife, and she will join me here in September."

Will Stay in America

For the present, at any rate, Gollmar will remain in his position as foreign correspondent for the Parker Pen company, for which he is admirably qualified by his extensive knowledge of European tongues.

Gollmar spent the last days of the past week in Chicago, where he learned from the Serbian consul that his status would be in case he determined to go back to Belgrade. Upon his return he announced his decision to remain in the United States.

OLD EMPLOYE WILL RETIRE

Foreman Anderson of the Janesville Machine Works, Leaves Work on July 1st.

After a service of thirty-two years with the Janesville Machine works and its predecessor, the Harris works, Mr. A. G. Anderson will July 1 retire from work and give up the position of foreman of the plant, which position he has held for twenty-three years. Mr. Anderson came to Janesville on July 3, 1868 and in September of 1871 entered the employ of the Harris works. In 1880 he was made foreman of the plant which position he has held ever since. When the name of the firm was changed from the Harris works to the Janesville Machine works he was still retained and saw the factory grow to its present size. Mr. Anderson is 53 years of age. He was born in Hallsberg, Sweden, and came to this country when a young man. On Saturday night last seventy employees of the company's shops surprised Mr. Anderson and spent the evening with him at his home, 55 Cherry street. The Orpheus Mandolin orchestra furnished the music. During the evening Mr. Cobb presented the retiring foreman with a ring in behalf of his fellow workers, with a few well chosen words, expressing their regard for him. Mr. Anderson will rest for the summer months and will spend some time in South Dakota.

AMERICAN MERCHANTS PROTECTION AGENCY

At a meeting of the officers of the above named association held recently, it was decided to open an office and commence operations in this city immediately. It was also decided to hereafter maintain their state office at this point.

The object of the agency is to furnish to our merchants and business men the credit standing of every purchaser in the city and to attend to collections for such merchants as join the association. After the organization of the merchants the office is to be placed in charge of a competent person and is to be kept open from 7 a. m. until the stores close at night.

A record of names, residence, occupation and credit standing of every person in the community will be kept at the office and members of the association may obtain information regarding any party's credit by calling in person at the office or by telephone.

One of the most vexatious matters to be contended with in the retail business is the matter of credit and many plans have been formulated for handling this part of the business, but no idea advanced up to the present time has been adequate. The co-operative system used by the American Merchants' Protection agency promises to fill the long felt want. Merchants in joining the agency agree to furnish a list of their debtors and credit accounts and such information as may be necessary to establish an accurate rating of customers and is the duty of the clerk (left in charge of the office) to change these ratings from time to time as the rated party may deserve and to keep the lists up to date. Particular attention is given to collections and competent persons are employed to attend to this branch of the business.

Reports on sales or transfers of property, mortgages, etc., will be furnished daily to members who desire such information. With an office in the city and a person right on the ground to look after the merchants' interests the business men of the city may place full confidence in the concern and the enterprise should have the support of every person interested in the matter of credits.

LEYDEN PLAYERS DROP ONE GAME

Viney Colts Do The Trick In Sunday Game—Visitors Shut Out By Doughty Monterey Nine.

Another scalp was affixed by the Viney Colts Sunday afternoon, when they administered a shut-out to the Leyden team.

Dorsey gave a cyclonic exhibition in the pitcher's box, and kept the first nine batters from reaching the initial bag. Only two of the visitors saw the third sack at close range.

The entire team gave Dorsey the support he deserved, and when the damage was counted up, the Viney Colts had scored eight runs on the strangers.

A double exhibition is programmed for next Sunday, when the Viney Colts will attempt to beat the La Prairie nine and the First Warders in quick succession.

LODGE MEETINGS TONIGHT Independent Order of Foresters at Good Templars' hall.

FUTURE EVENTS

Board of review meets daily at city hall.

Children of Mary of St. Mary's church give entertainment at St. Mary's hall Monday evening.

Second round Richardson medal play and sweepstakes handicap mixed foursome at St. Ignace's links Tuesday afternoon.

Class of 1902 of the Janesville high school picnics at Idlewyle park Tuesday.

Imperial band concert at east side stand on Tuesday evening.

BRIEF BITS OF LOCAL NEWS

Talk to Lowell.

T. P. Burns for bargains in children's underwear.

Fire Works. Fire Works. Five and 10 cent Store.

See the large variety of white shirt waists we are selling for 50c, 75c and $1.00.

T. P. Burns.

Don't fail to attend musical program and ice cream social at St. Mary's church Monday evening, June 29.

T. P. Burns for bargains in men's underwear.

William H. Shuckel, the well known piano dealer, leaves Wednesday for New York, on a business trip.

We are showing percale wrappers at 40c, 75c and $1.00 that are exceptional values.

T. P. Burns.

The Children of Mary of St. Mary's church will give a musical and literary entertainment at St. Mary's hall, Monday evening, June 29th, at 7:30 o'clock. After which an ice cream social will take place on lawn about church. An admission of 10c will be charged for entertainment; ice cream and cake, 10c. All are invited.

T. P. Burns for bargains in ladies' underwear.

Picnic Supper: Dr. F. T. Richard's class in the Methodist Sunday school will take a trip in carriages this evening. Usually there is a monthly meeting with refreshments. This time a drive will be taken. They will start at 6:15, taking their supper, drive along the river and return about 9 p. m.

The funeral of Mrs. Robert Morton occurred Friday afternoon from the family residence, 31 Ruger ave. The service was conducted by Rev. S. G. Huey, assisted by Rev. J. H. Tippet.

The song service was rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Cary, Mrs. W. S. Haight, and Mr. John Clark. The interment was at Johnstown Center.

The pallbearers were Messrs Horace Cunningham, Thos. Skinner, Samuel Godfrey, James McArthur, Wm. Zull and Thos. Clark.

Isabella Gentle was born in Scotland 53 years ago. With her parents she came to America where she was married to Mr. Robert Morton who died four months ago. To them five children were born, Agnes, who preceded them to the other world some nine years ago and John and James, who survive.

Early in life she gave herself to God. She was a lifelong member of the Rock Prairie United Presbyterian church. In her death the community loses one of its most beloved and devoted members. If any one word described Mrs. Morton's relations to her church it is "Faithfulness." Her life was a quiet unostentatious one, but which told powerfully for truth and right. Her piety was without display but it was impossible to associate with her without being better for it. To every good cause she gave her hearty support. Her children rise up and call her blessed. Evil words concerning her neighbors did not escape her lips and ever ready was she to cast the mantle of charity over their faults. Truly her life was lived with Christ in God. She was one of the Lord's jewels which will brightly shine in the Redeemer's crown.

FIRST FIRECRACKER FIRE

Monterey Disturbed by Incipient Blaze from Cannon Cracker.

An obstreperous cannon firecracker which was exploded in front of Fred Miller's store in Monterey started a blaze last evening and caused a slight commotion until a volunteer fire department extinguished the flames. The damage done was inconsiderable.

HOTEL REMODELING PROGRESS

Workman Are Preparing to Build New Office Front in Myers House.

Indications of the extensive changes which are to be made in the Myers house were given this morning when a false front was built in the office which will allow the work of putting in a new plate glass front to be taken up immediately.

New York World: That German sergeant who in two instances spit into the mouths of recruits is said to have 66 cases of abuse of soldiers to his discredit—or, perhaps, credit, from his official point of view. In the American army his career would have been short.

CITY TAX RATE MAY BE HIGHER

NATURAL RESULT OF FAILURE TO ASSESS MORTGAGES.

ASSESSMENT ROLL IS LOWER

If Same Tax Levy Is Made as Last Year, Rate Will Be Increased Three or Four Per Cent.

On the basis of the same tax levy as that of last year, the tax rate for Janesville will this year show an increase of between three and four per cent. This will be due to a reduction estimated at about $300,000, caused by the failure to list mortgages in the assessment rolls which have just been brought to completion, and are now in the hands of the board of review, subject to revision.

Mortgages Not Taxed

Throughout the county no mortgages have been assessed this year, because of the clause in practically all mortgage blanks which requires the person, who borrows the money, to pay all taxes. In this city the reduction amounts to about one-third, on a rough estimate furnished by the city clerk. The total assessment last year amounted to about 9 millions, approximately three hundred thousand dollars of that sum being in mortgages.

Tax Rate Higher

If the same tax levy is made this year as last the rate of taxation must of necessity be increased, but it is yet to be determined whether it will be necessary to raise the same sum as in 1902.

Estimates which have been made by some persons place the probable increase in the tax rate as high as ten per cent, but estimates made on the basis of last year's figures do not appear to justify such a prediction.

Review Board Meeting

An abbreviated session sufficed to serve for the meeting of the board of review this morning. C. B. Conrad was elected vice-president, Mayor Wilson and City Clerk Badger acting as president and secretary, ex-officio.

MARKS EPOCH IN TELEGRAPH WORLD

The Postal Company Will Now Use a Unique Device on Message Blanks.

To commemorate an epoch in its history and an event of signal importance to the country—the extension of the cables under the Pacific ocean from San Francisco to Hawaii, Guam, Manila and China—a new telegraph form has been designed and adopted by the Postal Telegraph-Cable company.

The distinctive feature of the form is a unique device, or "trade-mark" elliptical in shape, to indicate that the company's lines extend more than two-thirds of the distance from east to west, around the world.

The device is a graphic delineation in a remarkably small space of the comprehensive and far-reaching telegraph system, which will endure as a fitting monument to the late John W. Mackay, in whose patriotism and public spirit it was conceived, and by whose sagacity, financial ability, and indomitable energy it was established and developed despite powerful opposition until it gained public recognition as one of the most successful as well as beneficent business enterprises of the times.

BRIEFLETS

Entertains Chorus: Miss Cora Anderson is this afternoon entertaining the Sunbeam chorus of the Baptist church at her home, 55 Cherry street.

Y. M. C. A.: Mr. J. A. Craig gave a good talk at the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. building Sunday afternoon. There was nearly twice the usual attendance and much enthusiasm was shown. There was music by the orchestra and two male quartettes led in the singing. Several informal talks were given and there were informal discussions.

Before Justice Earle: The case of Eleanor King versus C. J. Chapman; judgment entered for $99.70.

Before Justice Reeder: The case of F. A. Taylor versus Geo. H. B. Davis, settled out of court.

Bridge Closed: Fourth avenue bridge was closed this morning and sections of the cedar block pavement will be relaid.

You don't know how good your breakfast will taste after a seven o'clock morning walk down to Grubb's for a dozen hot raised biscuits or a loaf of potato bread. The hearty man will eat a dozen fresh fried cakes for breakfast and a woman's dainty appetite will relish a half dozen of the best thin crisp sugar cookies ever made. For dinner a rich layer cake can be eaten with good results. For supper a golden wine cake or chocolate cup cakes with baked ham and potato chips would be very nice.

Golden Blend Coffee...

Possesses the rich Mocha and Java Blend. We ask 25 cents per pound which is most reasonable when you consider the quality.

Janesville Spice Co., ON THE BRIDGE

TOOK INVENTORY AT COUNTY ASYLUM

Trustees Prepare To Make Annual Statement Regarding Property at Insane Asylum.

Tomorrow the fiscal year ends at the county farm.

In preparation for making the customary annual reports the trustees—C. E. Langworthy of Fulton, Robert More of Bradford, and W. J. McIntyre of Janesville—took an inventory Saturday of all property, including standing crops.

Completions have not been made yet which will show the relative property owned by the county this year, in comparison with last year.

Workers are now busied making the repairs which were ordered by the building committee of the county board.

NEWS OF A PERSONAL NATURE

Leo Brownell spent Sunday in Fairfield.

R. W. Adair has returned from a week's vacation in Evansville.

Miss Leora Westlake spent Sunday with relatives in Oregon.

Mr. Goodhart, attorney, left this morning for Madison on legal business.

Walter Mosselson of this city has received a new gasoline launch from a Detroit firm.

Professor Alexander of the University Experiment station was in the city this morning.

Mrs. Arthur Demis of Milwaukee is visiting her brother, Charles B. Withington, 58 S. Academy St.

Charles Sadafy of Los Angeles, Cal., who has been visiting A. Razook returned to Chicago this morning.

Miss Jennie Boomer and Miss Jennie Edlington have returned from a weeks visit with relatives in Chicago.

Mrs. H. Holley of Dempster, S. Dak. is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. H. A. Arnold.

Joe Hushnell of the rug department of Marshall Field & Co., was in the city this morning between trains, and took occasion to call upon a number of friends.

Charles W. Reeder, attorney, will leave tomorrow morning for a week's visit in Milwaukee.

Change of Firm...

Heller & Burgess are now fully prepared to do general blacksmith and wagon work of all kinds. Same location as occupied by late firm of Heller & Newton.

HELLER & BURGESS, Near Corner Court & Park Sts.

HOW ABOUT YOUR COFFEE?

In the city of Janesville there are probably one or two hundred stockholders of the Tabasco-Chilapasco Trading and Transportation Co. of Mexico. I am handling the coffee made by this firm. It is the best coffee I ever had. People say it is fine. Stockholders should not think of buying any other coffee. You thereby help the company, of which you are a part. You get mighty good coffee; you help me.

There are four brands of this coffee: Bueno, 20c; Corona, 23c; National, 25c; and Lumija Blend, 35c. The latter is put up in cans, and usually retails at 40c.

Special

This week I am making a special offer on this coffee: With two pounds of this coffee I will give you one 10c can of Kodak's enamel starch. With three pounds I will give you one 25c can of White Lily baking powder.

Patronize your own company. Choice fresh meats of all kinds; liver tomorrow.

Full line of Benson & Lane's bakery goods.

J. F. CARLE, First Ward Grocer • Old Phone 247 New Phone 200

Biç Line California Fruits-

Due Tuesday morning.

GHERRIES, PEACHES, APRICOTS, ORANGES.

Home Baking.

The very finest. Let us supply you through the hot weather.

Apples

For pies, per peck.

30c

Salmon

Bargain lot.

2 cans 15c

Vanilla & Lemon Wafers

2 lbs. 25c

Dedrick Bros.

PHONE 9.

CITY Coal and Wood Yard

Herman Lehffus

Marion and W. Milwaukee St.

New Phone, No. 30.

If You Are Wise

You will phone us your coal order today. The coal market promises soon to be higher.

J. F. Spoon & Co.

New Phone 211. N. River St

THE FAIR

South River Street

HORN PROBABLY WILL NOT LIVE

DEATH OF INTERURBAN VICTIM EXPECTED HOURLY.

NO DOUBT OF HIS INSANITY

Pleaded That Chief Hogan Shoot Him—Says His Name is Bennett Anderson Horn.

In spite of the prediction made Sunday night that the man who attempted to end his life in front of an interurban car Friday evening would not live to see another day, he is still alive, although in a very low condition. The chance of recovery is practically not worth reckoning. Although he will at times answer direct questions, he is almost constantly muttering incoherently. That he is insane, and was insane at the time that he threw himself before the car is regarded as beyond question.

Says Name Is Horn

Responding to questions from Chief Hogan the man gave his name as Bennett Anderson Horn and his only home as Norway. He said that a brother lived in northern Michigan and that he was himself for a time employed on the William Porter farm in the town of Porter. There is no doubt that he is identical with the man who attempted to break into the McConnell house in La Prairie. His excuse given for his action at that time was the attempt to escape farmers who were pursuing him.

Wanted to be Killed

One instance of the deranged workings of his brain was given when he requested that he be shot by Chief Hogan. He told one of the attendants at the Palmer hospital, where he is under Dr. Palmer's care, that he had a bicycle at Pierson's shop and some baggage at the Union hotel.

In the event of his recovery he will be taken to the county farm.

Change of Firm...

Heller & Burgess are now fully prepared to do general blacksmith and wagon work of all kinds. Same location as occupied by late firm of Heller & Newton.

HELLER & BURGESS, Near Corner Court & Park Sts.

HOW ABOUT YOUR COFFEE?

In the city of Janesville there are probably one or two hundred stockholders of the Tabasco-Chilapasco Trading and Transportation Co. of Mexico. I am handling the coffee made by this firm. It is the best coffee I ever had. People say it is fine. Stockholders should not think of buying any other coffee. You thereby help the company, of which you are a part. You get mighty good coffee; you help me.

There are four brands of this coffee: Bueno, 20c; Corona, 23c; National, 25c; and Lumija Blend, 35c. The latter is put up in cans, and usually retails at 40c.

Special

This week I am making a special offer on this coffee: With two pounds of this coffee I will give you one 10c can of Kodak's enamel starch. With three pounds I will give you one 25c can of White Lily baking powder.

Patronize your own company. Choice fresh meats of all kinds; liver tomorrow.

Full line of Benson & Lane's bakery goods.

J. F. CARLE, First Ward Grocer • Old Phone 247 New Phone 200

Biç Line California Fruits-

Due Tuesday morning.

GHERRIES, PEACHES, APRICOTS, ORANGES.

Home Baking.

The very finest. Let us supply you through the hot weather.

Apples

For pies, per peck.

30c

Salmon

Bargain lot.

2 cans 15c

Vanilla & Lemon Wafers

2 lbs. 25c

Dedrick Bros.

PHONE 9.

CITY Coal and Wood Yard

Herman Lehffus

Marion and W. Milwaukee St.

New Phone, No. 30.

If You Are Wise

You will phone us your coal order today. The coal market promises soon to be higher.

J. F. Spoon & Co.

New Phone 211. N. River St

THE FAIR

South River Street

Gifts For June Brides...

If you are in doubt what to give; if you want something that won't be duplicated; if you are hunting a gift that will be as creditable to your good taste as to your good nature; if you desire a gift that will be as new as the bride herself, and as much admired; Visit our store and see the articles that make the most acceptable Wedding Gifts.

HALL, SAYLES & FIFIELD.
Reliable Jewelers.

The Mammoth Cave

Of Kentucky doesn't play such an important part in the maintenance or comforts of a man's life as this black cave of "the bottled up sunlight of past ages"

Well screened COAL and careful delivery are our pride

Janesville Coal Co.,

Phone 89. Office, Riverside Laundry, Yards, South River & Oak Sts.

Buy a Brownie Camera.

They are fine little camera and also instructive.

Brownie Cameras, $1 and $2

Brownie Developing Machines, $2.00

Try Walnut Sundae at our fountain.

SMITH'S PHARMACY

SAYS OPERATORS ARE THE GAINERS

ARE OUT $250,000 MONTHLY

Difference Between Baer's Offer and the Award of the Commission is Said to Reach That Sum—Railroad Figures Bear Out His Charge.

Pottsville, Pa., June 29.—That the attitude of the miners' union is costing the miners of the anthracite region nearly $250,000 monthly in wages is said to be demonstrated by statistics just completed at the headquarters of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron company.

When the award of the strike commission was made a controversy arose between William Wilhelm, a local labor leader, and John Mitchell. Wilhelm took exception to Mitchell's claim that the award was a victory for the miners, and stated that he himself as an intermediary had been offered better terms of settlement while the strike was in progress.

Men Do Not Benefit. Wilhelm stated the acceptance of President Baer's offer made publicly before the commission of a general increase in wages of 5 per cent would have been of greater benefit to the employees at large than was the ultimate award of the commission.

A careful tabulation of wages received by miners and laborers employed by the Philadelphia & Reading company fully bears out Wilhelm's statement that 60 per cent of the men at work in the mines do not benefit by the award of the commission.

MAY AVERT STRIKE.

Machinists Recede from Demand That All Shops Be Unionized.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 29.—The threatened strike of the machinists in this vicinity on July 1 was probably averted by the men agreeing to a compromise. Over 1,000 machinists attended the mass meeting and after much discussion agreed to cut their demands for an increase in wages from 15 to 10 per cent and withdraw bodily their original proposition to make entirely union all shops where union men in any number are employed.

A committee will wait upon the manufacturers to present the modified scale. If this conference fails to agree, the nearly 4,000 union machinists will be ordered on strike. As the unionizing of the shops has been the stumbling block, it is believed the manufacturers will agree to the advance in wages.

The molders will, in all probability, strike on July 1. This craft, after several conferences with the employers, has failed to agree on a new scale. Arbitration has also failed and a mass meeting will be held in order to get the sentiment of the whole body on strike or acceptance of the employers' ultimatum.

NEW LINE IS TO TAP INDIANA

Traction Company Will Build From South Bend to Hammond.

La Porte, Ind., June 29.—The Northern Indiana Traction Company has been incorporated in this state with a capitalization of $1,000,000, with Samuel A. Wight, John C. Devine, Walter C. Nelson, Francis M. Case and William J. Root of Chicago as directors. The lines of the company will extend from South Bend via La Porte and Valparaiso to Hammond. The right of way has been secured between South Bend and La Porte. The work of construction will be well under way by Oct. 1. This corporation is one of the three which have been organized for the building of lines from points in Indiana to Chicago.

FIND HIEROGLYPHS IN A CAVE

Explorers of Cavern Near Ava, Ill., Discover Ancient Picture-Writing.

Ava, Ill., June 29.—Much interest is being manifested in the Kinkaid cave, two miles from here. Recently a crowd went into it a distance of three miles and found all kinds of hieroglyphics, but nothing intelligible except a few dates in the early part of the nineteenth century. Among other things they found was a bed of leaves fresh and warm and a little further off they heard the cry of the panther and saw two bright eyes. The party hurriedly left the cave.

Two Are Drowned.

Sioux City, Ia., June 29.—While John and Dora Sueve and Mike Lee and Miss Thena Waldum were boating on the Sioux river they got in the wake of an excursion steamer and their boat was overturned. Lee and Miss Waldum were drowned.

Sanitarium to Open.

Cleveland, O., June 26.—What is said to be the first municipal tuberculosis sanitarium in this country will be opened here Tuesday. All patients will be treated according to the latest scientific methods.

Soldiers Protect Cars.

Richmond, Va., June 29.—The strikers are quiet. There has been no disturbance and none is expected. Cars have been run on all lines under military protection as usual.

Traffic in Wild Animals.

A dealer in wild animals in Hamburg collected and sold last year seventy-six lions, tigers and panthers, forty-two bears, fifty-two elephants, sixty-four camels and dromedaries, 730 monkeys and a large number of smaller animals and birds.

DAY-OLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY SUMMARIZED

Important Items of News at Home and Abroad Told in Short, Concise Paragraphs.

CHICAGO.

Members of the city council and the city legal advisers do not believe feasible the proposed plan of immediately ratifying the Mueller ownership bill and taking over the street railways.

Judge Baker, who has been hearing the suits of the Illinois Insurance department, has entered injunctions against a long list of agents who are said to have ignored the law.

McChesney, with 129 pounds up and at odds on in the betting, won the Oakwood handicap at Washington park from Alan-a-Dale, with Little Scout third. Even with heavy impost McChesney clipped the track record.

Representative Mann has taken up the cause of Chicago merchants who are discriminated against in the matter of naval contracts, and has explained the situation to Secretary Moody.

Fourteen thieves who had been operating at the Masonic picnic made their escape while bands were playing. They secured several wallets.

W. H. Mitchell leads the list of Chicago owners of bank stocks and Jesse Spalding is second.

FOREIGN.

Marines on board the Kearsarge at Kiel were not permitted to accept gifts Emperor William wanted to make them. The Berlin press thinks they are careless and lack discipline.

Reports from Abyssinia are that the mad mullah has killed thirty-nine British officers out of the forty-two white men in Somaliland.

Chamberlain's tariff projects are definitely put back beyond the present session of parliament and will undoubtedly be made an election issue. Xenian Antiquarians Grenfell and Hunt have added some valuable discoveries to early Christian literature in their work of excavation.

The revolutionary sentiment in Russia is said to be spreading, and anti-Semitic agitation is declared to be assuming a dangerous phase.

NEW YORK.

Society women are adopting the style of wearing men's socks and garters on the theory that they are cooler in summer time. The idea is said to have come from Paris.

A woman on a trolley car was compelled to pay a second fare because her baby chewed up the transfer. She says she will sue the company.

DOMESTIC.

President Roosevelt reached Oyster Bay and was greeted by rival reception committee. He unveiled a civil war trophy and made a short speech. Harvey Logan, train robber and desperado confined in the Knoxville, Tenn., jail, lassoed the guard with a wire, secured two revolvers, and escaped on a swift horse.

Acting Gov. Northcott of Illinois denounces the lynching at Belleville and insists on a special grand jury to make inquiry.

Christian Scientists are assembling in Boston for the communion session of mother church. Shamrock III. defeated Shamrock I. of New York in first trial in American waters.

ONLY ASSET CONSISTS OF LAND

Receiver Is Wanted for the Atlantic Window Glass Company.

Trenton, N. J., June 29.—Vice Chancellor Grey has granted an order to show cause why a receiver should not be appointed for the Atlantic Window Glass company of Magnolia, N. J. The order is returnable at Camden on July 6 next. The company's plant was recently destroyed by fire. The liabilities of the company are said to amount to over $22,000, and the only asset is the land upon which the plant was situated.

Meals by Electricity.

Automatic bars have become so successful in Switzerland that a company has been formed to supply the Swiss and their visitors with electric automatic restaurants where, as of by magic meals, ranging from the modest chop and chips to the elaborate six-course table d'hôte, will be served by electricity to all comers.

Money Spent in Advertising.

The amount of money yearly spent for advertising in the United States is about $600,000,000—a sum equal to the value of the annual corn crop, or nearly twice the value of the wheat crop, more than six times the value of the pig iron production in a year, and nearly three times the annual gold production.

Objectionable.

Minnesota authorities have decided that Cole Younger's book is too sentimental. It would take considerable sugar coating to make any ex-bandit's biography suitable for the Sunday school library, however.—Denver Republican.

One of the Benedicts.

The Gallic bachelor is crowing, like the emblem of his nation, over the fact revealed by the recent census that of the five centenarians found in Paris not one was ever married.—New York Tribune.

Record of Wireless Telegraphy.

With wireless telegraphy recently the Kaiser Wilhelm II spoke with the Minneapolis at a distance of 210 miles, a record distance for communication at sea.

TROLLEY RUNS INTO FREIGHT

BRAKES FAIL TO STOP THE CAR

Motorman Sticks to His Post and Suffers Severely—Passengers Are Thrown From Their Seats and Covered With Fragments of Wreckage.

Chicago, Ill., June 29.—Crowded with home bound passengers, an Archer avenue trolley car crashed into a Belt line freight train at Archer avenue and Forty-seventh street. Two passengers were killed and many were seriously injured.

Two Are Dead.

Minnie Malstrom and an unknown man were killed.

Following are the names of the injured: Joseph Dolaney, John Gleason, B. Gordon, Miss Bessie Jordan, J. Morsh, Malachy McGregor, B. J. Norren, P. Reilly, E. D. Zordaworsky.

Brakes Refuse to Work.

Witnesses to the accident say the trolley car brakes refused to work and the car crashed into the freight train. The passengers had no time to jump before the accident. Nearly all were returning from picnics and were asleep in the car.

The motorman, John Sloan, stuck to his post and was badly injured.

Thrown From Seats.

The passengers were thrown from their seats and several were buried in the debris caused by the wrecked car. Several were completely covered by fragments of broken wood, and the groans and shrieks of the injured added horror to the situation. The train was stopped in a short time and the crew hurried back to aid the passengers.

The place in which the wreck occurred is far from convenient for the handling of injured persons. It was some time before word could be sent to the police, but when a man finally reached a telephone patrol wagon and ambulances were started on long runs to the scene.

Child Is Killed.

Divine Strube, the 2-year-old daughter of William Strube, was struck by a Robey street electric car at Polk street and instantly killed. The conductor, Max Seeker, and the motorman, John Gurdor, were arrested. The child was playing in the street when struck, and persons who witnessed the accident say the trainmen were to blame.

HOLD ALDERMAN FOR BRIBERY

Grand Jury Indicts C. F. Culbertson of Evansville, Ind.

Evansville, Ind., June 29.—Councilman C. F. Culbertson has been arrested on an indictment returned by the grand jury charging him with an attempt to bribe, during the fights over the Cumberland Telephone company's franchise. Three councilmen, including President McCutchan, testified that Councilman Culbertson offered them $2,000 if they would vote against revoking the company's franchise.

Illinois Osteopaths Elect.

Bloomington, Ill., June 29.—The Illinois Osteopathic association elected officers as follows: President, J. D. Cunningham, Bloomington; vice president, W. G. Carter, Springfield; secretary and treasurer, M. Kelly, Chicago; trustees, William Hartford, Chicago; A. S. Melvin, Chicago; E. S. Magill, Peoria; E. H. Brown, Dixon; F. Peack, Duquoin.

Holds Woman for Murder.

Kalkaska, Mich., June 29.—Mrs. Mary McKnight, who, according to Prosecuting Attorney Smith, confessed to him that she poisoned her brother, John Murphy, and his wife and baby, was held for trial on the charge of murder.

Memorial to Boxer Martyrs.

Oberlin, O., June 29.—The Ohio Union of Christian Endeavor visited Oberlin to have a missionary rally at the memorial arch recently dedicated to the memory of the missionaries of China who suffered martyrdom in the Boxers' rebellion.

Rob Men Who Distract Bank.

Little Valley, N. Y., June 29.—Robbers broke into a farmhouse two miles from Limestone and robbed James and Patrick Quinton of $4,000. The Quintons are suspicious of banks and kept their house barricaded against robbers.

Japanese Is Ordained as Minister.

Boston, Mass., June 29.—Kiyoshi Satoh of Tokio was ordained to the Universalist ministry in the Everyday church. Mr. Satoh graduated from Lombard college, Galesburg, Ill., and Tufts college.

Alleged Murderer Is Arrested.

Guthrie, Okla., June 29.—John H. Roberts, charged with the murder, near Sterling, Okla., of T. H. Higgenbotham and two sons on Dec. 21, 1901, has been arrested at Mount Vernon, Ind.

Falling Rock Kills Miner.

Peoria, Ill., June 29.—By a fall of coal and rock from the roof of a mine here William Mushbaugh, a miner, was killed. The body has been recovered.

Illiterates in Britain.

In the election of 1892 there were in England and Wales 46,109 illiterates; in Scotland, 4,677; in Ireland, 84,919. At the 1895 elections the figures were: Illiterates in England, 25,521; Scotland, 4,002; Ireland, 49,257.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

L. M. Wilson, a traveling salesman for the Armour Packing company, was assaulted at St. Joseph, Mo., and fatally cut.

The corner stone of the Fond du Lac public library has been laid. The building is to cost $40,000, of which $30,000 is given by Andrew Carnegie. Guy L. Hunt of Portland, Ore., a Harvard sophomore, and Lloyd E. Rich, a junior, have been held on the charge of breaking and entering the store of the Harvard Co-operative association.

P. A. B. Widener, the street railway magnate, arrived at New York on the St. Paul and was met at the pier by his son, George Widener. Mr. Widener banded his son a box of jewels which the younger man left behind in the Hotel Cecil, London. They are said to be worth $30,000.

Boy Pleads Guilty.

Marion, Ill., June 29.—Silas Jones of Herrin, a lad 13 years old, appeared before Judge Duncan in court on a charge of attempted murder. The boy entered a plea of guilty and received a reform school sentence.

Stallion Attacks Man.

Plano, Ill., June 29.—Charles Gillman was attacked by a stallion which he was leading behind a road cart and his right side and hand and arm were so badly lacerated that his life is despaired of.

Payne Is to Rest.

Washington, June 29.—Postmaster General Payne has decided to take a rest until after the Fourth of July. It is supposed he will go to Atlantic City or some other seashore resort.

Venezuelan Arbitration.

The Hague, June 29.—The arbitration tribunal to settle questions at issue between Venezuela and a number of the powers will meet here Sept. 1.

Fire Damages Dry Goods Store.

Richmond, Ind., June 29.—Fire damaged the dry goods store of L. M. Jones & Co. to the extent of $35,000. The insurance is $32,000.

The New York Station

Of the Pennsylvania System at the foot of West 23d street, makes the uptown and hotel district of New York easily accessible. The cheap cab service of this system from that station is extensively patronized. Full particulars may be had by addressing H. R. Dering, A. G. P. Art. No. 2 Sherman street, Chicago.

JANESVILLE MARKET PRICES

Quotations on Grain and Produce Reported for the Gazette.

IMPORTED BY F. A. SPOON & CO., June 29, 1903.

WHEAT—1st Pat. at $1.15 to $1.20; 2nd Pat. at $1.05 to $1.10 per bushel.

WHEAT—No. 3 Winter, 12¢ 3/4; No. 3 Spring 12¢ 1/2.

RYE—By sample, at 45¢ 3/4 per bushel.

BARLEY—Fair to good malting, 40¢ 1/2; malted grade, 30¢ 1/2.

CORN—Ear, per ton, $11.00 to $12.00, depending on quality.

OATS—Market strong; 34¢ 3/4 for good 3 Whites, off grades, at 30¢ 3/4.

CLOVER SEED—7¢ 1/2 to 8¢ 00 per bushel.

TIMOTHY SEED—Retail at $1.50 to $1.75 per bushel.

FEED—Pure corn and oats, 32¢ 00 per ton; mixtures, 34¢ 00 to 36¢ 00.

BEAN—18.00 in 200 lb. sacks per ton.

PEAS—MIDDLES—$21.00 sacked, per ton Red Dot, 22.00. Standard Middlings, 18.00 sacked; 21.00 bulk.

MEAL—18.00 per ton.

HAY—9.00 per ton.

STRAW—$4.00 to $5.00 per ton.

POTATOES—6¢ 1/2 to 7¢ 1/2 per bushel.

BEANS—2.15 to 2.25 per bushel, hand picked.

ROOTS—10¢ per bushel.

TURNIPS—10¢ per bushel.

HIDES—Green, 50¢ 1/2.

WOOL—Straight lots, 11¢ 1/2.

CATTLE—$2.50 to $3.00 per head.

PORK—$6.25 to $6.50 per barrel.

LARD—41¢ per cask.

Butter—18¢ per pound.

Eggs—18¢ per dozen.

Remember the name, Deau's and take no other.

Remember the excursion to this delightful resort Tuesday, June 30th. Round trip only $1.00. Leave Janesville 7:40 a. m., arrive Lake Geneva 9:45 a. m., Williams Bay 10:00 a. m. Returning leave Williams Bay 5:40 p. m., Lake Geneva 6 p. m. For tickets and information apply to agents C. & N. Ry.

Lake Geneva
A strictly first-class personally conducted excursion to this beautiful resort Tuesday, June 30th, round-trip $1.00. Leave Milton Junction 7:14 a. m., Janesville 7:40 a. m., arriving Lake Geneva 9:45 a. m., Williams Bay 10:00 a. m. Returning leave Williams Bay 5:40 p. m., Lake Geneva 6:00 p. m. For tickets and information apply to agent of the C. & N. W. Ry.

Special Excursion Rates
Low rate round-trip tickets to Fond du Lac and intermediate stations, good every Sunday until Sept. 27, 1903.

Very Low Rates to Saratoga Springs, N. Y.
July 4 and 5, with final return limit by extension until July 31 inclusive on account of annual meeting of N. E. A. annual meeting.

Lake Geneva
A strictly first-class personally conducted excursion to this beautiful resort Tuesday, June 30th, round-trip $1.00. Leave Milton Junction 7:14 a. m., Janesville 7:40 a. m., arriving Lake Geneva 9:45 a. m., Williams Bay 10:00 a. m. Returning leave Williams Bay 5:40 p. m., Lake Geneva 6:00 p. m. For tickets and information apply to agent of the C. & N. W. Ry.

Very Low Excursion Rates to Boston, Mass.
June 30 to July 4, inclusive, with a special return limit by extension, until Sept. on account of N. E. A. annual meeting, variable routes. Stop-overs allowed at Detroit, Niagara Falls, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, and other specified points.

Very Low Rates to Atlanta, Ga.
Tickets will be sold July 6, 6 and 7, with final return limit by extension until Aug. 15 inclusive, on account of B. Y. P. U. Annual convention.

Low Rates to the East
Particular attention is called to low rates which have been made for the meeting of the National Educational Association at Boston next month. These round-trip excursion rates with liberal return limits are available at a time of the year when teachers students and others are making plans for summer vacations, and afford an excellent opportunity for a journey to one of the most interesting cities in the world, as well as reaching the seashore, and mountain resorts of New England.

Parties are being formed at various points in the west for the purpose of making this journey in congenial company. The officials of the Chicago and North-Western advise that the movement as now anticipated is very large.

SPECIAL EXCURSION RATES
Will be in effect from all points on the Chicago & North-Western Railway for the occasions named below: Boston, July 6th to 10th, National Educational Association. Saratoga Springs, N. Y., July 7th to 10th, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. Atlanta, Ga., July 9th to 12th, Baptist Young People's Union of America.

Denver, July 9th to 13th, United Society of Christian Endeavor. Detroit, Mich., July 15th to 19th, International Epworth League. Baltimore, Md., July 21st to 23rd, B. P. O. E. San Francisco, August 17th to 22d, G. A. R. meeting. Deadwood, S. D., Sept. 7th to 11th, International Mining congress. Baltimore, Md., Sept. 21st to 26th, Sovereign Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F. For information as to rates, dates of sale, etc., of these or other occasions, call upon the ticket agent of the Chicago & North-Western Line.

rates and tickets apply to ticket agents Chicago & North-Western Ry. Special, Reduced Excursion Rates Will begin effect from all points on the Chicago & North-Western Railway for the occasions named below:

National Educational association, Boston, July 6th to 10th. Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, Saratoga Springs, N. Y., July 7th to 10th. United Christian Endeavor, Denver July 9th to 13th. Epworth League, Detroit, Mich., July 15th to 19th. B. P. O. E., Baltimore, Md., July 21st to 23d. G. A. R. meeting, San Francisco, August 17th to 22d.

Summer Excursion Rates to Colorado
Utah, and the Black Hills via C. & N. W. Ry.

On sale June 1st to Sept. 30th. Limit, Oct. 31st. For full information see ticket agent C. & N. W. passenger depot.

For information as to rates, dates of sale, etc., of these or other occasions, call upon the ticket agent of the North-Western Line.

Very Low Rates to Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo and Return.

Via the North-Western Line, July 1 to 10 inclusive, with final return limit until and including August 31, 1903, account of C. E. convention. Stop over privileges and choice of routes. Slide trips can be made at reduced excursion rates to various Colorado points, to the summit of Pike's Peak, (to Yellowstone National Park, from Denver only) and to San Francisco; Los Angeles, etc. Low rate excursion tickets to Colorado also on sale daily, limited for return until October 31st.

Very Low Excursion Rates to Boston.
Via the North-Western Line. Excursion tickets will be sold June 30 to July 4, inclusive, limited to return until July 12, inclusive, on account of N. E. A. annual meeting.

Fourth of July Excursion Rates
Via the North-Western Line. Excursion tickets will be sold to points within 200 miles of selling station, July 3 and 4, good returning until July 6th, inclusive.

Christian Endeavor Meeting
A Christian Endeavor special train via the North-Western Ry., will leave Chicago Tuesday, July 7th at 10:30 p. m., carrying various delegations of Endeavorers and their friends to the international convention at Denver. Pullman standard and tourist sleeping cars, free reclining chair cars and standard day coaches, through without change. Only $25.00 round trip from Chicago. Correspondingly low rates from other points. For sleeping car reservations and illustrated itinerary, address W. B. Kniskern, P. T. M., Chicago, and for rates, tickets, etc., apply to agents Chicago & North-Western Ry.

Special Summer Rates
Via Chicago & North-Western Ry. For round trip tickets during the summer season to St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth, Ashland, Waukesha, Devil's Lake, Gogebic, Lake Geneva, Madison, Marquette, Lake Mills, Green Lake, Lake Minnetonka, and other summer resorts of Wisconsin, northern Michigan and Minnesota, Yellowstone National Park, Oregon, Washington and Alaska. Descriptive pamphlets "Colorado," "California" and "Hints to Tourists," giving detailed information, mailed upon receipt of two cents each for postage, on application to W. B. Kniskern, P. T. M., Chicago, Ill. For

C. M. & St. Paul Ry.

Special Reduced Excursion Rates.
Will be in effect from all points on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway for the occasions named below.

National Educational Association, Boston, July 6th to 10th. Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, Saratoga Springs, N. Y., July 7th to 10th. United Christian Endeavor, Denver July 9th to 13th. Epworth League, Detroit, Mich., July 15th to 19th. B. P. O. E. Baltimore, Md., July 21st to 23rd. G. A. R. meeting San Francisco, August 17th to 22nd.

Low rates to Boston, Mass., and

ABNER DANIEL

By ...
WILL N. HARBEN

Author of "Waterfall"
Copyright, 1902, by HARPER & BROS.,
Who Publish the Work in Book Form. All Rights Reserved.

Continued from last week.

CHAPTER VII.

ALAN made his way along the wall, out of the track of the promenaders, into the office, anxious to escape being spoken to by any one. But here several jovial men from the mountains who knew him intimately gathered around him and began to make laughing remarks about his dress.

"You look for the world like a dirt dauber." This comparison to a kind of black wasp came from Pole Baker, a tall, heavily built farmer, with an enormous head, thick eyebrows and long, shaggy hair. He lived on Bishop's farm and had been brought up with Alan. "I'll be darned if you ain't nimble on yore feet, though. I've seed you cut the pigeon wing over on Mossy creek with them big, strappin' gals 'fore you had yore sights as high as these town folks."

"It's that thar vest that gits me," said another. "I reckon it's cut low so you won't drap soft victuals on it, but I guess you don't do much eatin' with that collar on. It don't look like yore Adam's apple could stir a peg under it."

With a good natured reply and a laugh he did not feel, Alan hurried out of the office and up to his room, where he had left his lamp burning. Rayburn Miller's hat and light overcoat were on the bed. Alan sat down in one of the stiff backed, split bottom chairs and stared straight in front of him. Never in his life had he suffered as he was now suffering. He could see so hope ahead; the girl he loved was lost to him. Her father had heard of the foolishness of old man Bishop and, like many another well meaning parent, had determined to save his daughter from the folly of marrying a penniless man who had doubtless inherited his father's lack of judgment and caution.

There was a rap on the closed door, and immediately afterward Rayburn Miller turned the knob and came in. His kindly glance swept the face of his friend, and he said, with forced lightness:

"I don't want to bore you, old man, but I just had to follow you. I saw from your looks as you left the ball-room that something was wrong, and I am afraid I know what it is. You see, Captain Barclay is a rough, outspoken man, and he made a remark the other day which reached me. I wasn't sure it was true, so I didn't mention it; but I reckon my informant knew what he was talking about."

Alan nodded despondently. "I asked her to go to church with me tomorrow night. She was awfully embarrassed and finally told me of her father's objections."

"I think I know what fired the old devil up," said Miller.

"You do?"

"Yes. It was that mistake of your father. As I told you, the colonel is as mad as a wet hen about the whole thing. He's got a rope tied to every nickel he's got, and he intends to leave Dolly a good deal of money. He thinks Frank Hillhouse is just the thing. He shows that as plain as day. He noticed how frequently you came to see Dolly and scented danger ahead and simply put his foot down on it. Just as fathers have been doing ever since the flood. My dear boy, you've got a bitter pill to take, but you've got to swallow it like a man. You've reached a point where two roads fork. It is for you to decide which one you'll take."

Alan made no reply. Rayburn Miller lighted a cigar and began to smoke steadily.

"It's none of my business," Miller burst out suddenly, "but I'm friend enough of yours to feel this thing like the devil. However, I don't know what to say. I only wish I knew how far you've gone into it."

Alan smiled mechanically.

"If you can't look at me and see how far I've gone, you are blind," he said. "I don't mean that," replied Miller. "I was wondering how far you had committed yourself—oh, hang it—made love and all that sort of thing."

"I've never spoken to her on the subject," Alan informed him gloomily.

"Good, good! Splendid!"

Alan stared in surprise.

"I don't understand," he said. "She knows—that is, I think she knows—how I feel, and I have hoped that."

"Never mind about that," interrupted Miller laconically. "There is a chance for both of you if you'll turn square around like sensible human beings and look the facts in the face."

"You mean—"

"That it will be stupid, childish folly for either or both of you to let this thing spoil your lives."

"I don't understand you."

"Well, you will before I'm through with you, and I'll do you up brown. There are simply two courses open to you, my boy. One is to treat Colonel Barclay's wishes with dignified respect and bow and retire just as any European gentleman would do when told that his pile was too small to be considered."

"And the other?" asked Alan sharply.

"The other is to follow in the footsteps of nearly every sentimental fool that ever was born and go 'round looking like a last year's bird's nest or, worse yet, persuading the girl to elope and thus angering her father so that he will cut her out of what's coming to her and what is her right, my boy. She may be willing to live on a bread and water diet for awhile, but she'll lose flesh and temper in the long run. If you don't make as much money for her as you cause her to lose, she'll tell you of it some day or, at least, let you see it, and that's as long as it's wide. You are now giving yourself a treatment in self hypnosis, telling yourself that life has not and cannot produce a thing for you beyond that particular pink frock and yellow head. I know how you feel. I've been there six different times, beginning with a terrible long first attack and dwindling down as I became inoculated with experience till now the complaint amounts to hardly more than a momentary throes when I see a fresh one in a train for an hour's ride. I can do you a lot of good if you'll listen to me. I'll give you the benefit of my experience."

"What good would your devilish experience do me?" said Alan impatiently.

"It would fit any man's case if he'd only believe it. I've made a study of love. I've observed hundreds of typical cases and watched marriage from inception through protracted illness or boredom down to dumb resignation or sudden death. I don't mean that no lovers of the ideal, sentimental brand are ever happy after marriage, but I do believe that open eyed courtship will beat the blind sort of hollow and that in nine cases out of ten, if people were mated by law according to the judgment of a sensible, open eyed jury, they would be happier than they now are. Nothing ever spoken is truer than the commandment, 'Thou shalt have no other God but me.' Let a man put anything above the principle of living right, and he will be miserable. The man who holds gold as the chief thing in life will starve to death in its cold glitter, while a pauper in rags will have a laugh that rings with the music of immortal joy. In the same way the man who declares that only one woman is suited to him is making a god of her, raising her to a seat that won't support her dead, material weight. I frankly believe that the glamour of love is simply a sort of insanity that has never been correctly named and treated because so many people have been the victims of it."

"Do you know," Alan burst in almost angrily, "when you talk that way I think you are off. I know what the matter with you—you have simply flattered away your heart, your ability to love and appreciate a good woman. Thank heaven, your experience has not been mine! I don't see how you could ever be happy with a woman. I couldn't look a pure wife in the face and remember all the flirtations you've indulged in—that is, if they were mine."

"There you go," laughed Miller. "Make it personal. That's the only way the average lover argues. I am speaking in general terms. Let me finish. Take two examples—first, the chap crazily in love, who faces life with the red rag of his infatuation—his girl. No parental objection, everything smooth and a carload of silverware, a clock for every room in the house. They start out on their honeymoon, doing the chief cities at the biggest hotels and the theaters in the three dollar seats. They soon tire of themselves and lay it to the trip. Every day they rake away a handful of glamour from each other till, when

"I don't want to bore you, old man, but I just had to follow you. I saw from your looks as you left the ball-room that something was wrong, and I am afraid I know what it is. You see, Captain Barclay is a rough, outspoken man, and he made a remark the other day which reached me. I wasn't sure it was true, so I didn't mention it; but I reckon my informant knew what he was talking about."

Alan nodded despondently. "I asked her to go to church with me tomorrow night. She was awfully embarrassed and finally told me of her father's objections."

"I think I know what fired the old devil up," said Miller.

"You do?"

"Yes. It was that mistake of your father. As I told you, the colonel is as mad as a wet hen about the whole thing. He's got a rope tied to every nickel he's got, and he intends to leave Dolly a good deal of money. He thinks Frank Hillhouse is just the thing. He shows that as plain as day. He noticed how frequently you came to see Dolly and scented danger ahead and simply put his foot down on it. Just as fathers have been doing ever since the flood. My dear boy, you've got a bitter pill to take, but you've got to swallow it like a man. You've reached a point where two roads fork. It is for you to decide which one you'll take."

Alan made no reply. Rayburn Miller lighted a cigar and began to smoke steadily.

"It's none of my business," Miller burst out suddenly, "but I'm friend enough of yours to feel this thing like the devil. However, I don't know what to say. I only wish I knew how far you've gone into it."

Alan smiled mechanically.

"If you can't look at me and see how far I've gone, you are blind," he said. "I don't mean that," replied Miller. "I was wondering how far you had committed yourself—oh, hang it—made love and all that sort of thing."

"I've never spoken to her on the subject," Alan informed him gloomily.

"Good, good! Splendid!"

Alan stared in surprise.

"I don't understand," he said. "She knows—that is, I think she knows—how I feel, and I have hoped that."

"Never mind about that," interrupted Miller laconically. "There is a chance for both of you if you'll turn square around like sensible human beings and look the facts in the face."

"You mean—"

"That it will be stupid, childish folly for either or both of you to let this thing spoil your lives."

"I don't understand you."

"Well, you will before I'm through with you, and I'll do you up brown. There are simply two courses open to you, my boy. One is to treat Colonel Barclay's wishes with dignified respect and bow and retire just as any European gentleman would do when told that his pile was too small to be considered."

"And the other?" asked Alan sharply.

"The other is to follow in the footsteps of nearly every sentimental fool that ever was born and go 'round looking like a last year's bird's nest or, worse yet, persuading the girl to elope and thus angering her father so that he will cut her out of what's coming to her and what is her right, my boy. She may be willing to live on a bread and water diet for awhile, but she'll lose flesh and temper in the long run. If you don't make as much money for her as you cause her to lose, she'll tell you of it some day or, at least, let you see it, and that's as long as it's wide. You are now giving yourself a treatment in self hypnosis, telling yourself that life has not and cannot produce a thing for you beyond that particular pink frock and yellow head. I know how you feel. I've been there six different times, beginning with a terrible long first attack and dwindling down as I became inoculated with experience till now the complaint amounts to hardly more than a momentary throes when I see a fresh one in a train for an hour's ride. I can do you a lot of good if you'll listen to me. I'll give you the benefit of my experience."

"What good would your devilish experience do me?" said Alan impatiently.

"It would fit any man's case if he'd only believe it. I've made a study of love. I've observed hundreds of typical cases and watched marriage from inception through protracted illness or boredom down to dumb resignation or sudden death. I don't mean that no lovers of the ideal, sentimental brand are ever happy after marriage, but I do believe that open eyed courtship will beat the blind sort of hollow and that in nine cases out of ten, if people were mated by law according to the judgment of a sensible, open eyed jury, they would be happier than they now are. Nothing ever spoken is truer than the commandment, 'Thou shalt have no other God but me.' Let a man put anything above the principle of living right, and he will be miserable. The man who holds gold as the chief thing in life will starve to death in its cold glitter, while a pauper in rags will have a laugh that rings with the music of immortal joy. In the same way the man who declares that only one woman is suited to him is making a god of her, raising her to a seat that won't support her dead, material weight. I frankly believe that the glamour of love is simply a sort of insanity that has never been correctly named and treated because so many people have been the victims of it."

"Do you know," Alan burst in almost angrily, "when you talk that way I think you are off. I know what the matter with you—you have simply flattered away your heart, your ability to love and appreciate a good woman. Thank heaven, your experience has not been mine! I don't see how you could ever be happy with a woman. I couldn't look a pure wife in the face and remember all the flirtations you've indulged in—that is, if they were mine."

"There you go," laughed Miller. "Make it personal. That's the only way the average lover argues. I am speaking in general terms. Let me finish. Take two examples—first, the chap crazily in love, who faces life with the red rag of his infatuation—his girl. No parental objection, everything smooth and a carload of silverware, a clock for every room in the house. They start out on their honeymoon, doing the chief cities at the biggest hotels and the theaters in the three dollar seats. They soon tire of themselves and lay it to the trip. Every day they rake away a handful of glamour from each other till, when

"I don't want to bore you, old man, but I just had to follow you. I saw from your looks as you left the ball-room that something was wrong, and I am afraid I know what it is. You see, Captain Barclay is a rough, outspoken man, and he made a remark the other day which reached me. I wasn't sure it was true, so I didn't mention it; but I reckon my informant knew what he was talking about."

Alan nodded despondently. "I asked her to go to church with me tomorrow night. She was awfully embarrassed and finally told me of her father's objections."

"I think I know what fired the old devil up," said Miller.

"You do?"

"Yes. It was that mistake of your father. As I told you, the colonel is as mad as a wet hen about the whole thing. He's got a rope tied to every nickel he's got, and he intends to leave Dolly a good deal of money. He thinks Frank Hillhouse is just the thing. He shows that as plain as day. He noticed how frequently you came to see Dolly and scented danger ahead and simply put his foot down on it. Just as fathers have been doing ever since the flood. My dear boy, you've got a bitter pill to take, but you've got to swallow it like a man. You've reached a point where two roads fork. It is for you to decide which one you'll take."

Alan made no reply. Rayburn Miller lighted a cigar and began to smoke steadily.

"It's none of my business," Miller burst out suddenly, "but I'm friend enough of yours to feel this thing like the devil. However, I don't know what to say. I only wish I knew how far you've gone into it."

Alan smiled mechanically.

"If you can't look at me and see how far I've gone, you are blind," he said. "I don't mean that," replied Miller. "I was wondering how far you had committed yourself—oh, hang it—made love and all that sort of thing."

"I've never spoken to her on the subject," Alan informed him gloomily.

"Good, good! Splendid!"

Alan stared in surprise.

"I don't understand," he said. "She knows—that is, I think she knows—how I feel, and I have hoped that."

"Never mind about that," interrupted Miller laconically. "There is a chance for both of you if you'll turn square around like sensible human beings and look the facts in the face."

"You mean—"

"That it will be stupid, childish folly for either or both of you to let this thing spoil your lives."

"I don't understand you."

"Well, you will before I'm through with you, and I'll do you up brown. There are simply two courses open to you, my boy. One is to treat Colonel Barclay's wishes with dignified respect and bow and retire just as any European gentleman would do when told that his pile was too small to be considered."

"And the other?" asked Alan sharply.

"The other is to follow in the footsteps of nearly every sentimental fool that ever was born and go 'round looking like a last year's bird's nest or, worse yet, persuading the girl to elope and thus angering her father so that he will cut her out of what's coming to her and what is her right, my boy. She may be willing to live on a bread and water diet for awhile, but she'll lose flesh and temper in the long run. If you don't make as much money for her as you cause her to lose, she'll tell you of it some day or, at least, let you see it, and that's as long as it's wide. You are now giving yourself a treatment in self hypnosis, telling yourself that life has not and cannot produce a thing for you beyond that particular pink frock and yellow head. I know how you feel. I've been there six different times, beginning with a terrible long first attack and dwindling down as I became inoculated with experience till now the complaint amounts to hardly more than a momentary throes when I see a fresh one in a train for an hour's ride. I can do you a lot of good if you'll listen to me. I'll give you the benefit of my experience."

"What good would your devilish experience do me?" said Alan impatiently.

"It would fit any man's case if he'd only believe it. I've made a study of love. I've observed hundreds of typical cases and watched marriage from inception through protracted illness or boredom down to dumb resignation or sudden death. I don't mean that no lovers of the ideal, sentimental brand are ever happy after marriage, but I do believe that open eyed courtship will beat the blind sort of hollow and that in nine cases out of ten, if people were mated by law according to the judgment of a sensible, open eyed jury, they would be happier than they now are. Nothing ever spoken is truer than the commandment, 'Thou shalt have no other God but me.' Let a man put anything above the principle of living right, and he will be miserable. The man who holds gold as the chief thing in life will starve to death in its cold glitter, while a pauper in rags will have a laugh that rings with the music of immortal joy. In the same way the man who declares that only one woman is suited to him is making a god of her, raising her to a seat that won't support her dead, material weight. I frankly believe that the glamour of love is simply a sort of insanity that has never been correctly named and treated because so many people have been the victims of it."

"Do you know," Alan burst in almost angrily, "when you talk that way I think you are off. I know what the matter with you—you have simply flattered away your heart, your ability to love and appreciate a good woman. Thank heaven, your experience has not been mine! I don't see how you could ever be happy with a woman. I couldn't look a pure wife in the face and remember all the flirtations you've indulged in—that is, if they were mine."

"There you go," laughed Miller. "Make it personal. That's the only way the average lover argues. I am speaking in general terms. Let me finish. Take two examples—first, the chap crazily in love, who faces life with the red rag of his infatuation—his girl. No parental objection, everything smooth and a carload of silverware, a clock for every room in the house. They start out on their honeymoon, doing the chief cities at the biggest hotels and the theaters in the three dollar seats. They soon tire of themselves and lay it to the trip. Every day they rake away a handful of glamour from each other till, when

"I don't want to bore you, old man, but I just had to follow you. I saw from your looks as you left the ball-room that something was wrong, and I am afraid I know what it is. You see, Captain Barclay is a rough, outspoken man, and he made a remark the other day which reached me. I wasn't sure it was true, so I didn't mention it; but I reckon my informant knew what he was talking about."

Alan nodded despondently. "I asked her to go to church with me tomorrow night. She was awfully embarrassed and finally told me of her father's objections."

"I think I know what fired the old devil up," said Miller.

"You do?"

"Yes. It was that mistake of your father. As I told you, the colonel is as mad as a wet hen about the whole thing. He's got a rope tied to every nickel he's got, and he intends to leave Dolly a good deal of money. He thinks Frank Hillhouse is just the thing. He shows that as plain as day. He noticed how frequently you came to see Dolly and scented danger ahead and simply put his foot down on it. Just as fathers have been doing ever since the flood. My dear boy, you've got a bitter pill to take, but you've got to swallow it like a man. You've reached a point where two roads fork. It is for you to decide which one you'll take."

Alan made no reply. Rayburn Miller lighted a cigar and began to smoke steadily.

"It's none of my business," Miller burst out suddenly, "but I'm friend enough of yours to feel this thing like the devil. However, I don't know what to say. I only wish I knew how far you've gone into it."

Alan smiled mechanically.

"If you can't look at me and see how far I've gone, you are blind," he said. "I don't mean that," replied Miller. "I was wondering how far you had committed yourself—oh, hang it—made love and all that sort of thing."

"I've never spoken to her on the subject," Alan informed him gloomily.

"Good, good! Splendid!"

Alan stared in surprise.

"I don't understand," he said. "She knows—that is, I think she knows—how I feel, and I have hoped that."

"Never mind about that," interrupted Miller laconically. "There is a chance for both of you if you'll turn square around like sensible human beings and look the facts in the face."

"You mean—"

"That it will be stupid, childish folly for either or both of you to let this thing spoil your lives."

"I don't understand you."

"Well, you will before I'm through with you, and I'll do you up brown. There are simply two courses open to you, my boy. One is to treat Colonel Barclay's wishes with dignified respect and bow and retire just as any European gentleman would do when told that his pile was too small to be considered."

"And the other?" asked Alan sharply.

"The other is to follow in the footsteps of nearly every sentimental fool that ever was born and go 'round looking like a last year's bird's nest or, worse yet, persuading the girl to elope and thus angering her father so that he will cut her out of what's coming to her and what is her right, my boy. She may be willing to live on a bread and water diet for awhile, but she'll lose flesh and temper in the long run. If you don't make as much money for her as you cause her to lose, she'll tell you of it some day or, at least, let you see it, and that's as long as it's wide. You are now giving yourself a treatment in self hypnosis, telling yourself that life has not and cannot produce a thing for you beyond that particular pink frock and yellow head. I know how you feel. I've been there six different times, beginning with a terrible long first attack and dwindling down as I became inoculated with experience till now the complaint amounts to hardly more than a momentary throes when I see a fresh one in a train for an hour's ride. I can do you a lot of good if you'll listen to me. I'll give you the benefit of my experience."

"What good would your devilish experience do me?" said Alan impatiently.

"It would fit any man's case if he'd only believe it. I've made a study of love. I've observed hundreds of typical cases and watched marriage from inception through protracted illness or boredom down to dumb resignation or sudden death. I don't mean that no lovers of the ideal, sentimental brand are ever happy after marriage, but I do believe that open eyed courtship will beat the blind sort of hollow and that in nine cases out of ten, if people were mated by law according to the judgment of a sensible, open eyed jury, they would be happier than they now are. Nothing ever spoken is truer than the commandment, 'Thou shalt have no other God but me.' Let a man put anything above the principle of living right, and he will be miserable. The man who holds gold as the chief thing in life will starve to death in its cold glitter, while a pauper in rags will have a laugh that rings with the music of immortal joy. In the same way the man who declares that only one woman is suited to him is making a god of her, raising her to a seat that won't support her dead, material weight. I frankly believe that the glamour of love is simply a sort of insanity that has never been correctly named and treated because so many people have been the victims of it."

"Do you know," Alan burst in almost angrily, "when you talk that way I think you are off. I know what the matter with you—you have simply flattered away your heart, your ability to love and appreciate a good woman. Thank heaven, your experience has not been mine! I don't see how you could ever be happy with a woman. I couldn't look a pure wife in the face and remember all the flirtations you've indulged in—that is, if they were mine."

"There you go," laughed Miller. "Make it personal. That's the only way the average lover argues. I am speaking in general terms. Let me finish. Take two examples—first, the chap crazily in love, who faces life with the red rag of his infatuation—his girl. No parental objection, everything smooth and a carload of silverware, a clock for every room in the house. They start out on their honeymoon, doing the chief cities at the biggest hotels and the theaters in the three dollar seats. They soon tire of themselves and lay it to the trip. Every day they rake away a handful of glamour from each other till, when

"I don't want to bore you, old man, but I just had to follow you. I saw from your looks as you left the ball-room that something was wrong, and I am afraid I know what it is. You see, Captain Barclay is a rough, outspoken man, and he made a remark the other day which reached me. I wasn't sure it was true, so I didn't mention it; but I reckon my informant knew what he was talking about."

Alan nodded despondently. "I asked her to go to church with me tomorrow night. She was awfully embarrassed and finally told me of her father's objections."

"I think I know what fired the old devil up," said Miller.

"You do?"

"Yes. It was that mistake of your father. As I told you, the colonel is as mad as a wet hen about the whole thing. He's got a rope tied to every nickel he's got, and he intends to leave Dolly a good deal of money. He thinks Frank Hillhouse is just the thing. He shows that as plain as day. He noticed how frequently you came to see Dolly and scented danger ahead and simply put his foot down on it. Just as fathers have been doing ever since the flood. My dear boy, you've got a bitter pill to take, but you've got to swallow it like a man. You've reached a point where two roads fork. It is for you to decide which one you'll take."

Alan made no reply. Rayburn Miller lighted a cigar and began to smoke steadily.

"It's none of my business," Miller burst out suddenly, "but I'm friend enough of yours to feel this thing like the devil. However, I don't know what to say. I only wish I knew how far you've gone into it."

Alan smiled mechanically.

"If you can't look at me and see how far I've gone, you are blind," he said. "I don't mean that," replied Miller. "I was wondering how far you had committed yourself—oh, hang it—made love and all that sort of thing."

"I've never spoken to her on the subject," Alan informed him gloomily.

"Good, good! Splendid!"

Alan stared in surprise.

"I don't understand," he said. "She knows—that is, I think she knows—how I feel, and I have hoped that."

"Never mind about that," interrupted Miller laconically. "There is a chance for both of you if you'll turn square around like sensible human beings and look the facts in the face."

"You mean—"

"That it will be stupid, childish folly for either or both of you to let this thing spoil your lives."

"I don't understand you."

"Well, you will before I'm through with you, and I'll do you up brown. There are simply two courses open to you, my boy. One is to treat Colonel Barclay's wishes with dignified respect and bow and retire just as any European gentleman would do when told that his pile was too small to be considered."

"And the other?" asked Alan sharply.

"The other is to follow in the footsteps of nearly every sentimental fool that ever was born and go 'round looking like a last year's bird's nest or, worse yet, persuading the girl to elope and thus angering her father so that he will cut her out of what's coming to her and what is her right, my boy. She may be willing to live on a bread and water diet for awhile, but she'll lose flesh and temper in the long run. If you don't make as much money for her as you cause her to lose, she'll tell you of it some day or, at least, let you see it, and that's as long as it's wide. You are now giving yourself a treatment in self hypnosis, telling yourself that life has not and cannot produce a thing for you beyond that particular pink frock and yellow head. I know how you feel. I've been there six different times, beginning with a terrible long first attack and dwindling down as I became inoculated with experience till now the complaint amounts to hardly more than a momentary throes when I see a fresh one in a train for an hour's ride. I can do you a lot of good if you'll listen to me. I'll give you the benefit of my experience."

"What good would your devilish experience do me?" said Alan impatiently.

"It would fit any man's case if he'd only believe it. I've made a study of love. I've observed hundreds of typical cases and watched marriage from inception through protracted illness or boredom down to dumb resignation or sudden death. I don't mean that no lovers of the ideal, sentimental brand are ever happy after marriage, but I do believe that open eyed courtship will beat the blind sort of hollow and that in nine cases out of ten, if people were mated by law according to the judgment of a sensible, open eyed jury, they would be happier than they now are. Nothing ever spoken is truer than the commandment, 'Thou shalt have no other God but me.' Let a man put anything above the principle of living right, and he will be miserable. The man who holds gold as the chief thing in life will starve to death in its cold glitter, while a pauper in rags will have a laugh that rings with the music of immortal joy. In the same way the man who declares that only one woman is suited to him is making a god of her, raising her to a seat that won't support her dead, material weight. I frankly believe that the glamour of love is simply a sort of insanity that has never been correctly named and treated because so many people have been the victims of it."

"Do you know," Alan burst in almost angrily, "when you talk that way I think you are off. I know what the matter

Fortunes In Indiana Oil Fields

Do You Want An Investment That Is Sure And Safe--A Big Thing Already on It's Feet?

The SUPERIOR OIL AND GAS COMPANY

is operating in the very strongest section of the Indian Oil Field. The capital stock of the company is $1,000,000, divided into 1,000,000 shares. Par value of each share $1.00, fully paid and non-assessable. 400,000 shares were voted into the treasury to be sold for development purposes. THERE IS PLENTY OF MONEY IN THE HANDS OF THE TREASURER FROM THE SALE OF STOCK FOR THIS DEVELOPMENT WORK THAT IS BEING PUSHED DAY AND NIGHT WITH THE UTMOST SPEED.

There Are Three Things That One Needs to Know.

ABOUT A PROPOSITION OF THIS KIND--THE MEN, THE FIELD, AND THE WORK--OR WHAT IS BEING DONE.

The men in this company are all strong, clean, noble men, honored and trusted in their own communities. Among the directors are two judges, three bank cashiers, and several bank directors. Unreliable men are not usually placed in such positions of trust and honor.

The president of the company is Judge G. B. Morgan, of Aledo, Ill. The cashier of the Farmers' Bank, of Aledo, says: "Judge Morgan is an attorney here, and has been Master in Chancery for a long time. He is considered a good, honorable man in every way. I also know several other men who are stockholders in said company who are good men." The cashier of the Corn Belt Bank, of Bloomington, Ill., writes:

"Would consider them reliable and good for any contract." There is no Oil Field in the United States that is safer on the whole than the Indiana field. The Marlon field in Grant county is among the very best in the state as the oil here is in the porous Trenton Rock instead of in a sand and gravel bed. During the month of May 123 wells were put down in Grant county, the county next highest on the list had 74; next had 37, and so on lower. The cashier of the First National Bank, of Marlon, writes: "Our understanding is that the Grant county field is the best in the state."

The Indianapolis Commercial-Reporter (greatest financial paper in the state) says in its issue of June 24: "Marlon leads all the districts in number of wells and production." There are 300 wells inside the city limits of Marlon, and over 1,000 in the vicinity.

The Standard Oil Company Has Purchased

LAND NEAR THE CITY OF MARION AS A SITE ON WHICH TO ERECT THE LARGEST REFINERY IN THE WORLD, AND THEY KNOW WHAT THE FIELD IS. THIS SITE IS WITHIN A HALF MILE OF OUR WELLS. THE PIPES OF THE STANDARD CO. CONNECT WITH OUR TANKS WHICH GIVES US A QUICK AND CONSTANT MARKET--AN IMPORTANT ITEM! THE FIELD IS GREAT!

To The Average Investor.

For the average investor there is no opening today so great and safe as oil stock with a good company in a TESTED TERRITORY. The stock of one company that started at $1.00 per share rose to $1,500.00 per share. Stock in another company that started at $10.00 rose to $5,000.00. But besides the rise in the price of stock, there are the big dividends that come regularly from such great enterprises. One man invested $300 in Indiana oil stock and now gets $60.00 per month in dividends. Ten, fifteen and twenty dollars invested now in Superior Oil stock will bring you in good returns in a year from now. 1000 shares of this stock will make you comfortable for the rest of your life. Invest small sums if you have but little. Invest large sums if you have them. The men in this company are ABOVE REPROACH, the territory is THOROUGHLY TESTED.

PRICE OF OIL.

In oil quotations of June 27, Indiana crude oil was quoted at $1.09 per barrel. Beaumont oil at 64c per barrel. California oil 55c per barrel. Note the higher price of the Indiana oil. The cost of producing oil is 4c to 6c per barrel. With oil at a $1.09 there is a clear profit of over $1.00 on every barrel. With 100 wells each producing 20, 30, 75 or 100 bbls. per day for 365 days in the year the profits quickly mount into large figures.

The development work that is being done by the Superior company is enough to put dynamite into one's blood. Well No. 1 was completed on May 28. 80 bbls. of oil were pumped in 12 hours. That means 160 bbls. in 24 hours. The Indianapolis Daily Commercial-Reporter of June 1st spoke of this well as a "monster." Well No. 2 was ordered at once. A telegram from the contractor on June 23rd says: "Shot well No. 2, today and is showing up big--better than No. 1."

A letter from the secretary dated June 25 says: "There are 400 to 500 ft. of oil in well No. 2." That means that the pressure of oil in the Trenton Rock is so great that it fills up the cavern caused by the "shooting" and rises in the pipe to that height.

The same letter from the secretary also says: "Our pumping plant is now being set up. Contract is let for well No. 3 to begin at once." Two great syndicates, one from France, the other from England, have come into this field this season--the French syndicate alone has ten millions of dollars in hand--for the production of oil. The French syndicate instead of drilling wells is buying them outright, and paying $1,000 per each barrel capacity. That is, if a well produces 100 bbls. per day, they pay $100,000 for it. These syndicates evidently believe in the field.

The production of oil now begins, and will be constant, as oil pumps never stop.

That Means That Dividends Will Begin Soon.

As each well is completed the connection will be quickly and easily made with the pumping engine--and so each well will swell the output.

Now Is the Time To Invest.

THE PRICE OF STOCK JUMPED FROM 10c TO 20c PER SHARE AT THE COMPLETION OF WELL NO. 1.

THE PRICE WILL AGAIN GO UP IN A VERY FEW DAYS BECAUSE OF THE COMPLETION OF WELL NO. 2, AND THE PRODUCTION OF OIL THAT IS NOW BEGUN. YOU CAN NOW GET STOCK--ALL YOU WANT--AT 20c PER SHARE, BUT THE CHANCE WON'T LAST LONG.

The next raise in the price of stock will be a big one.

REMEMBER THAT ALL THIS IS NO DREAM. NOTHING OF THE KIND!

A gigantic enterprise has already made a tremendous start, owing to plenty of hard cash, push, and a great field. The company has no debts and never will have--there's plenty of money in the treasury and more coming in.

This proposition is based on SOLID FACTS. Plenty of proof on every point.

Can't tell it all here; come and investigate. Call or write.

O. D. MOON,

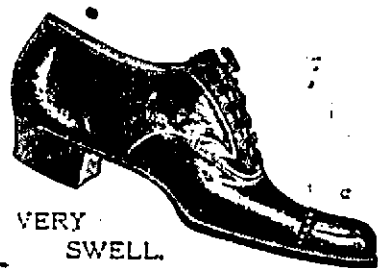

Office 424
Hayes Block,
Janesville, Wis.

OFFICE HOURS:

11 to 12 a. m.; 4 to 6 p. m.

Prepare For the 4th. ..Oxfords..

For
The Nation's Holiday.

VERY SWELL.

YOU won't be dressed right unless you wear them. We're prepared for an Immense Oxford Sale for the coming days before the Fourth. We have engaged extra help to wait upon you promptly and courteously.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

The climax of this year's Oxford selling will be centered in this Three Days Sale.

$3.00	Men's Patent Colt, Velour Calf and Vici Kid.	$3.00
$2.85	Women's Patent Kid Patent Leather, Vici Kid; in heavy or light soles. Special.....	$2.85
$1.95	For Patent Leather or Forderer's finest Vici Kid Oxfords, welted or light turn sole Spec.	$1.95

Others at $1.50, $1.25 and $1.000

Misses' Strap Slippers and Oxfords at $1.25, $1., 85c, 75c, 65c 50c.

Our June reduction sale in our Clothing department is bringing lots of customers. Come and look--it cost you nothing.

AMOS. REHBERG & CO.
Shoes & Clothing. Two Complete Department

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

THERE IS NO MONEY IN CARRYING OVER
Ready-To-Wear Garments

All idea of profit is out of the question.

Prices Cut Down to the lowest notch.

Now IS THE Time To Buy.

It is simply a case of CLEANING UP. Any woman or miss who is thinking of getting a Suit, Skirt, or Outer Wrap will do well to call right away. Just a little protection on a cool evening may prevent a severe cold. Outer Wraps--so many beautiful styles, one can surely find a garment to please.

A FEW MARK DOWNS.

From $85. to 39.00, a suit of silk pongee, beautifully trimmed and silk lined.
From $75 to 32.00, a suit of slate voile, very handsome.
From $45 to 27.00, a suit of soft mode Venetian, lovely trimming.
From $35 to 16.00, a long pongee coat, very stylish.
From $25 to $15, a coat of cream broadcloth, a beauty.

Suits down from 65 to $32; 50 to $23; $45 to to $22; 25 to $15.

Cream Etamine Skirts all greatly reduced.